Massive Redwood Parks Proposal Goes To Congress

State Would Get Muir Woods; Cash Earmarked For Lost Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration proposed today legislation to establish a two-unit 45,000 - acre Redwood National Park to save the giant redwood trees of northern California.

In addition the federal government would transfer to the state the Muir Woods National Monument as a unit of the Tamalpais State Park and some 31,000 acres of the King Range area west of Humboldt State Park.

Supported by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the proposal calls for a 43,392-acre unit in Del Norte County and a separate 1,400-acre unit in Humboldt County, including the tallest trees in the world ranging up to 367.8 feet in height.

The area would be about half the size advocated by the Sierra Club and proposed in bills introduced last year by Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., and today by 15 Democratic senators headed by Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.

Congressman Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., introduced the bill in the House, but pointed out he does not agree with all provisions of the bill.

"I fully endorse the concept (of a redwood national park), but I must be frank to say I cannot endorse all of its parts," said Clausen.

By introducing the bill, Clausen said the House rules give him some control over hearings and future handling of the bill, thus leaving him in a position "to offer improvements and perfect the proposal."

"The bill seems to be an honest attempt at compromise," the Congressman added. "I think it is a reasonable starting point."

Clausen said he had seen the completed bill for the first time last night and had not been able to study it in detail.

The administration's bill includes provision for payment of $342,000 a year for five years in economic adjustment aid to the California counties to compensate for loss of tax revenue. The figure was arrived at in negotiations between federal and state officials.

Acquisition costs of new land to be included in the park was estimated by the Interior Department at $56,850,000, including $54,167,950 for timber land owned by the Miller (Relim) Redwood Co. and the Simpson Timber Co.

The Del Norte park area would include the Jebediah Smith and Del Norte coast redwood state parks totalling about 14,000 acres.

The Miller Redwood Co. would lose about 18,000 acres and the Simpson company, 896 acres. The proposal calls for an immediate start on development of the park to provide jobs for displaced lumbermen.

Trustees Say They Would Sell Club Site

Trustees of the Newman Center adjacent to College of Marain said today they are willing to sell the property to the college, but must first find another nearby location for the center.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle of San Rafael, who sold the property to the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco for the Newman Center, charged that Marin Junior College District at no time made an offer "equal to its fair market value" for the property and did not notify them of decision to start condemnation proceedings.

The property, the former College Market and its lot of 6,450 square feet on College Avenue near Kentfield Corners, was sold to the archdiocese last August. On Aug. 26, escrow was opened by William Brannan, real estate broker. On Aug. 31 a condemnation suit was filed in behalf of the college district by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. Notice of the suit was served on the Mindles on Sept. 4, the day after closing of the escrow.

The mixup, not subsequently discussed in college board meetings, came to light last week.

The Newman Center board of dierctors, headed by Stephen N. Gilardi as president, has notified the college board of willingness to sell the site. However, said Gilardi, directors feel they cannot do so until another site in close proximity to the college

Guerrillas Flee From U.S. Assault

SAIGON (UPI) —Two companies of hard-core Viet Cong tried for the first time today to stand up and slug it out with U.S. Marines in Operation Double Eagle along the South China Sea coast. The Marines killed an estimated 46 before the guerrillas broke off the fight and fled.

About 60 miles to the south, near Bong Son, units of the 1st U.S. Cavalry Division overran a Viet Cong stronghold and then engaged in heavy fighting with guerrilla forces trying to escape through the heavy jungle.

Ground fire was so severe it downed two helicopters, and a third crashed because of engine failure.

The widely separated actions against the Viet Cong involved the 1st Infantry Division, taking part in Operation Mastiff about 31 miles northwest of Saigon, and the 1st Air Cavalry, engaged in Operation White Wing-Masher about 300 miles northeast of the capital.

A U.S. military spokesman said the infantrymen seized an

Influenza Closes All Seven Dixie Schools

All seven schools in the Dixie School District will close tomorrow and Friday as a result of the Asian flu epidemic that continued unabated throughout the county today.

The schools, reopened today after a four-day shutdown over Washington's Birthday, had absences ranging from 18 to 26 per cent. Supt. Dennie B. Willis said he was unable to find substitutes for six of the 22 teachers absent. "About a dozen other teachers are here who shouldn't be," he said.

No other district today planned to again close its schools, but the situation throughout the county remained virtually unchanged since Friday, last day the schools were open.

The county schools superintendent's office estimated 25 per cent absences compared to the normal five per cent for this time of year.

The epidemic, worst in the state since 1957, started with children but is working its way through the adult population.

Law enforcement agencies were reported somewhat hampered by absenteeism today. San Rafael police reported seven officers out sick.

Attendance at theaters and restaurants was off.

The county board of supervisors may have to modify tomorrow's agenda as a result of the absence of Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, in bed with pneumonia that developed from an arlier attack of influenza.

Industrial and commercial statistics were spotty, but business is known to have been affected.

The most complete figures, which give a measure of the epidemic, are those furnished by the schools.

The four-day breather, which resulted when all scheduled classes in the county were cancelled Monday, brought little relief.

Only the Bolinas - Stinson School District reported itself as yet unhit by the outbreak of the flu which causes severe stomach upset, headaches, and fever. "We have had a few

MEANY HURLS GAUNTLET — AFL-CIO president George Meany (center) today voiced displeasure with Johnson Administration at a Miami, Fla., news conference. He said organized labor is ready to "go it alone" without partisan support, to win higher minimum wages, open shop repeal and other goals. Johnson Heads For Collision With Labor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A 20-cent argument over a minimum wage increase put President Johnson today on a collision course that threatened a political blowup with organized labor.

"We can do it without the Democrats and without the Republicans," AFL-CIO President George Meany said of labor's demands for minimum wage and other legislation in Congress.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, warning that Johnson will not bargain with big labor over the amount of a minimum wage increase, said the "antagonism" expressed by AFL-CIO leaders may jeopardize labor's goals in Congress and Johnson's efforts to prevent runaway inflation.

No one would say so out loud, but the atmosphere here indicated the once strong political alliance of labor and the Democratic party threatened to crumble unless somebody backs down.

The giant labor federation's Committee on Political Education was expected to give the first major clue today of what the AFL-CIO will do politically to back up its grievances that Johnson and the big Democratic congressional majority which labor helped elect aren't living up to promises made during the campaign.

Meany said "intimations" that President Johnson will recommend minimum wage hikes from the present $1.25 to only $1.40 this year and $1.60 in 1968 could lead to potentially serious political repercussions that could even lead to the possibility of setting up a U.S. labor party.

But Meany said the AFL-CIO

Reserve Call Planned If Reds Press War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress today that if the Communists escalate the war in Asia Reservists will have to be called to active duty.

"Such a contingency," McNamara told a joint session of the Senate's Armed Services Committee and Appropriations subcommittee, "would necessitate at least a partial mobilization, including the callup of some or all of our Reserve forces and the extension of active duty tours."

Unless world conditions change, McNamara said, "we cannot look forward to discontinuation of the draft in the coming decade." But he added that under present conditions reliance will continue to be placed on Regular forces.

He put total U.S. military manpower at 2,653,142 for fiscal 1965, but said the number of men in the armed services will rise to an estimated 2,987,343 in fiscal 1966 and 3,093,109 in fiscal 1967.

McNamara also told the Senate committees today the United States stands "ready to facilitate negotiations for a just settlement" in South Viet Nam — but not to negotiate surrender.

To that end, McNamara said in his annual statement on the nation's military posture, the United States is prepared to continue its "military collaboration with the South Vietnamese forces as long as the Communists insist on fighting, and we are ready to cope with any further escalation of the conflict on their part."

He emphasized the administration's effort to bring about negotiations for peace and praised the military help being given in South Viet Nam by Australia, New Zealand and South Korea.

Revision Call

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly unanimously called on Gov. Brown today to place state constitutional revision before the current special legislative session.

What's What In Small Districts?

Who in county government is responsible to see that directors of small, special districts are properly elected and sworn into office?

County Administrator Alan Bruce called a meeting today to see if the question can be answered.

The meeting was suggested by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney in the wake of many irregularities in small district operation disclosed by county audits.

During the past few months it has come to light that some directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District, the Kentfield Fire District and the Almonte Sanitary District were either not properly elected or not properly sworn into office, or both.

Directors of the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District, all members of the developer's family, never stood for election and never took oath of office.

To attend the meeting in Bruce's office today were Maloney, County Clerk George H. Gnoss, and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

Gang Bullet Hits Marin City Youth

Rumble Revenge Blamed

A 21-year-old Marin City youth was shot last night in what sheriff's officers said appeared to be gang warfare by youths from Hunter's Point in San Francisco.

The gang apparently came to Marin City, said Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson, to continue a "rumble" of last Friday. Four carloads of them cruised Marin City streets for a half hour before the shooting.

Stinson said the youths are believed to be members of either the Majestic Gents or the Sabrines, both gangs at Hunter's Point.

The victim, however, had no part in the "rumble" of last Friday, officers said.

RAN FROM CARS

He is Eugene Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Johnson of 270 Drake Avenue. He said he was fired at as he ran after the four cars—all Buicks—pulled up beside him at Cole Drive and Drake Avenue and one youth leaped out and struck him.

As he ran, young Johnson told officers, someone said: "Go ahead and shoot the dude."

Two shots rang out, neither hitting him. But then Johnson stumbled and fell, and the third shot struck him in the right thigh, according to his account to his mother, Mrs. Lee A. Johnson.

CRY IS HEARD

Mrs. Johnson and neighbors heard the shots and his cry for help. His mother and neighbors Augustus Johnson and his daugh-

More Anti-Rumble Patrols Wanted

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and County Administrator Alan Bruce will appear before the county board of supervisors tomorrow with a request for four additional sheriff's deputies to cope with recurring Marin City rumbles.

Bruce said after a meeting this morning with Mountanos and Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson that four more deputies will be asked for the remainder of the fiscal year, starting March 1.

He said he and Sheriff Mountanos agreed that hereafter, patrol units in Marin City will be maintained for protection of Marin City alone, and will respond to no other calls in southern Marin County.

These units will patrol entrances to Marin City to prevent arrival of any gangs such as the four carloads of San Francisco youths who last night shot a Marin City boy, Eugene Johnson, 21, Bruce said.

"One thing is very clear," said Bruce, "There are no organized gangs as such in Marin City. What has been going on over the last few days is intrusions by gangs from outside the county."

London Disarm Aide Calls On Hanoi Envoy

MOSCOW (AP) — Britain's disarmament minister made a surprise call on the North Vietnamese envoy in Moscow today in a bid to get talks started to end the war in Viet Nam.

The minister, Lord Chalfont, is in Moscow with Prime Minister Harold Wilson who was seeking Soviet help in bringing the war to the peace table.

Chalfont's visit to the North Vietnamese charge d'affaires, Lee Chang, took place on the sidelines of the British-Soviet conferences.

There was no immediate indication of the outcome of Chalfont's meeting.

Wilson's aim in establishing direct contact with the North Vietnamese authorities apparently was to begin a dialogue directly with the Hanoi authorities in order to set the basis for a possible peace conference.

British informants said yesterday they saw signs of Soviet willingness to support Wilson's call for keeping the Middle East peaceful and end the Viet Nam war.

Wilson met again today with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and was scheduled to have talks with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Wilson also was to call today on former Soviet President Anastas I. Mikoyan.

The prime minister told newsmen on his arrival in Moscow Monday that no big breakthroughs were to be expected from his three-day visit.

British sources said in today's talks the prime minister would give attention to bilateral matters. He is trying to get the Soviet Union to buy more in Britain to lessen the imbalance in trade between the two countries.

Britain sells less than half as much to the Soviet Union as it buys.

Raincloudss Fade From Marin Sky

Clearing skies are predicted for Marin County tonight and tomorrow in the aftermath of the brief storm which dumped nearly half an inch of rain on many parts of the area before last midnight.

Among the most-drenched were Bolinas with .43 of an inch; Sausalito .42; Hamilton Air Force Base .36, and Terra Linda .30.

Mill Valley reported rainfall measuring .24 of an inch; Novato .20; San Anselmo .18, and San Rafael, .12.

Along with the bluer skies tomorrow, the Weather Bureau predicts some valley fog and morning clouds on the coast.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Lynda, Hamilton Linked Again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson has a new image—a jet set swinger flying across the country between the resorts of the "in" crowd.

Lynda

That is the picture painted of her by close friends who say she is in love with her latest beau, movie actor George Hamilton.

The White House doesn't mind the publicity caused by the President's 21-year-old daughter's recent travels with Hamilton as an escort.

But when it comes to a romantic link between the two, White House aides say that Lynda and the 25-year-old actor are "just friends." Hamilton's family and publicity aides have said not a word about his feeling toward Lynda.

Hamilton

Over the Christmas holidays the White House announced Hamilton would be Lynda's escort. She also went to Acapulco, Mexico, and to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras with Hamilton.

Uganda Premier Takes Over

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI) — Premier Milton Obote assumed one-man rule over Uganda today and five of his cabinet ministers were in custody "pending an investigation into their activities."

Obote

Obote engineered his one-man coup yesterday with the arrest of the five ministers and later announced he had "taken over all powers of the government."

He said action was taken "in the interests of national stability and public security and tranquility."

It was reported he acted to head off a plot to overthrow his regime. The five arrested ministers were members of the so-called Bantu group which had been expressing dissatisfaction with Obote.

Uganda, a republic within the British Commonwealth, is located between Kenya and the Congo in east central Africa and is roughly the size of the state of Oregon. It has a population of 6.5 million, about 10,000 of them Europeans.

Slayer Gets Life Imprisonment

Cross

Cross, 23, sighed and smiled broadly at his lawyers after the 11-man, one-woman jury announced his penalty late Tuesday.

"I feel it is a fair verdict," Cross said to Dist. Judge Mace B. Thurman just before formal sentencing.

Cross was accused of strangling Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21, last July 18 in a sexual frenzy. He was tried only for the slaying of Miss Rigsby. The state said the coeds were killed after they stopped at Cross' apartment to refresh after a 200-mile drive from Dallas.

Reasons Behind France's Attitude Of Independence

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government is determined to keep France from becoming an economic colony of the United States, Charles de Chambrun, French foreign trade secretary said today.

Chambrun told The Associated Press that this concern helps explain French stockpiling of American gold, close bargaining in the Common Market, the fruitlessness of the Kennedy Round of tariff negotiations and even the costly French program of atomic research.

"We could permit a much larger American presence in our economy, as the Germans are doing, and it would be easy politically: there would be more jobs and faster growth," he said.

"But to be politically responsible to the generations to come, we have to see that these generations have the weapons to defend themselves — Economic weapons.

"If we did nothing, in a few years we would have the same problems as Latin America has.

"The idea has taken hold in American financial circles that the way to take care of the United States' favorable balance of trade with France is to export capital. This is a policy whereby we could become a medium-developed country in the future.

"This explains our attitude on gold. We don't want to take America's gold, we just want to stop the overabundance of American capital in France."

All of the estimated $1.5-billion U.S. investment in France is not unwelcome. Chambrun cited the large operation of International Business Machines as an example.

"IBM does a lot of research here," he said, "and in all it helps raise the general technological level of French industry."

Chambrun is a member of the opposition Catholic Popular Republican Movement. But, he says, "I've always been a Gaullist." He joined the President's Cabinet last month.

Last year, after three years of deficits in its international balance of trade, France had a modest surplus. But, the minister said, "the structure of our exterior commerce is not very good. It would be better to have a sound structure with a trade deficit."

"The principal weakness in the structure is agriculture, which for us is a grave social problem," he said.

About 20 per cent of the French labor force is engaged in agriculture, compared with 7 per cent in the United States and about 10 per cent in Germany.

With the subsidies paid to bolster farm income, agriculture after education, is the largest item in France's national budget.

"We're investing a lot in industry at the same time, and it strains the system," said Chambrun.

A good deal of the strain would be relaxed by agreement on a policy for financing agriculture with France's five Common Market partners — Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Under such an agreement, the subsidy costs would be shared.

"Until we settle this, we will continue to be, in a sense, an underdeveloped country. The agricultural burden has diverted investment from industry," he said.

With the six Common Market countries sharing agricultural costs, France would be in a better position to hold her own. She could begin in earnest tariff negotiations among the six and the United States, Chambrun said.

Resumptions of these talks, the so-called Kennedy Round, "will start very, very soon," he added.

Chambrun also spoke of U.S. nuclear energy policy:

"The United States is trying to create a new monopoly of energy, as she nearly had with Great Britain on oil. America is trying to make a monopoly on atomic energy.

"You're starting to sell atomic plants for electricity to countries which could never have the possibilities to build them themselves. You're trying to freeze the world uranium sources under the pretext of nonproliferation of nuclear weapons. Everyone knows it's a false pretext."

France decided to enter the atomic club as much to protect the massive European energy market as she did for national security reasons, he said.

Permanent Minority Group Of Economics Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Creation of a permanent Minority Economic Council to champion the dissenting economic views of the party out of power was proposed today by Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo.

Curtis, senior House Republican on the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, made his proposal in a statement prepared for a symposium observing the 20th anniversary of the Employment Act of 1946.

That act formally fixed maximum production, employment and purchasing power as the overriding goals of national economic policy. It established the joint congressionaal committee and the President's Council of Economic Advisers to help attain the goals.

"Debate on economic issues is today not extennsive enough or thorough enough," Curtis said. "It needs a better informed, institutionalized challenger, able to refine and clarify economic policy issues."

Curtis said that while the executive branch has vast research and statistical resources at its command and "a strong attraction for private advisers," the minority party in Congress lacks such resources.

"This Minority Economic Council would be responsible to whichever party does not control the White House, and would be funded by Congress," Curtis explained. The services of its full-time staff would be available to all minority members of Congress.

Firemen Save 23 Elderly Residents

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Firemen rescued 23 elderly residents last night during a three-alarm apartment house fire in downtown San Francisco.

Five of them were treated at a hospital for minor injuries and released.

The cause of the fire was not known.

The apartment house is located at 450 Jones St.

But the subcommittee seemed to agree yesterday with Assemblyman Hale Ashcraft, R-Rancho Santa Fe, who said, "I don't like the appraisers system but I don't believe in going on witch hunts, either."

ment, McNamara discussed the Sino-Soviet rift and said:

"The contest between the two Communist powers opens up new dangers and new opportunities for the free world."

McNamara said there is growing recognition in the free world that the Viet Nam war is the result of Communist aggression and "is controlled from Hanoi, urged on by Peking." The American effort to seek negotiation is widely supported by non-Communist nations, he said.

McNamara also gave attention to military-political situations in other parts of the world, summing up his basic conclusion in these terms:

"The focus of the U.S. defense problem has shifted perceptibly toward the Far East. Overt aggression by the Warsaw Pact (Communist) countries in Europe, particularly against NATO and other nations allied with the United States, seems increasingly unlikely as long as we maintain our military strength and unity."

McNamara included in his posture statement the long summation of U.S. bomber and missile strength compared with Russia and China that he made last month before a Senate subcommittee. But in today's statement he expanded on details of Chinese military posture:

Despite economic setbacks and limitations, McNamara said China has "pursued an ambitious nuclear development program while concurrently attempting to modernize and strengthen its entire military establishment. She demonstrated the capacity to produce U235 in two nuclear tests and "probably will develop a thermonuclear device as soon as possible."

He said China probably has the capability to develop a medium-range ballistic missile and "there is no reason to suppose that they cannot, in time, produce long-range ballistic missile systems and arm them with thermonuclear warheads."

China's army, McNamara said, is the largest in the world, but deficiencies in equipment, transportation and supplies limit offensive capabilities outside of China.

COLLEGE

The college board wants to move more quickly, needing the property for planned expansion of the Kentfield campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Mindle, in a signed statement today, said they notified the college district on April 28, 1965, that the property was available for purchase.

"Thereafter," said the statement, "there were only several communications between the college and Mr. and Mrs. Mindle. At no time did the college make an offer to purchase the property which was equal to its fair market value which had been established by two impartial appraisers."

The Mindles said only overtures from the college district were through the county counsel. The price offered, they said, was in line with the appraised value on the tax rolls prior to reappraisal last year, but well below the reappraised value.

Their statement continued: "Prior to the agreement for the sale of the property, Mr. and Mrs. Mindle and Newman Center officials were never advised of the resolution of July 15, 1965, of the college board of trustees to buy the property."

The college board, in open meeting on July 15, voted to instruct the county counsel to start condemnation proceedings for the property. This was reported in the Independent-Journal the following day.

Proceedings were not started, however, until Aug. 31—after the sale to the Catholic Archdiocese.

This sale, the Mindles said, was initiated Aug. 17 by Rev. Antonoius Wall, with Brannan acting as agent for the sellers. On Aug. 30, they said, Newman Center officials informed the college administration of the purchase. The condemnation suit was filed the next day.

Brannan and Rev. Stephen McCabe, Newman Center chaplain, confirmed this.

Rev. McCabe said officials of the Newman Center have never been served notice of filing of the condemnation suit, although the archdiocese, not the Mindles, was owner when the notice was filed on the Mindles on Sept. 4.

He noted that the property has been considerably improved since being taken over by the center, so its market value now is above that at the time of purchase.

Attorney's Tax Trial Postponed To March

Jury trial of Sierra County Dist. Atty. Gordon I. Smith, 51, former deputy district attorney in Marin, on tax evasion charges, has been postponed to March 21 in U.S. District Court, San Francisco.

Smith has pleaded innocent to charges he failed to file complete federal income tax returns for the years 1957-1961. During that time he served a year as a superior court judge before being elected district attorney. The government claims he owes $2,916 in taxes on his half of his family's income during those years.

SHOOT

ter, Alta Fay Johnson, and son, Carl E. Johnson, took the wounded boy to Marin General Hospital. After emergency treatment, he was transferred to San Rafael General Hospital, where his condition was reported as fair today.

The four Buicks sped away. No one was captured.

Captain Stinson said the four carloads of young men and girls were seen cruising Marin City for a half hour before the 10 p.m. shooting. Some of them were recognized as members of the same gang involved in the Friday night "rumble," he said.

Mrs. Johnson said her son, who had been at a state youth camp near Lake Tahoe the past eight months, had been visiting friends in front of Hayden's Store.

He started to walk home alone when the four cars drew up beside him, he told his mother. The blow, the threat and the shooting followed rapidly.

Nearby residents heard the shots and telephoned the Marin City sheriff's office. Six officers were dispatched to the scene. They found the wounded youth had staggered about 500 yards across a field, then collapsed. There were traces of blood to mark his route.

Captain Stinson said the gang apparently had no cause to single out Johnson as victim.

Marin City streets were mostly deserted, he said. There had been no incidence of violence since the Friday "rumble."

Ellis L. Seibert, chief criminal deputy sheriff, said he was putting several inspectors on the case today.

Last Friday, a carload of Hunter's Point youths tried to crash a Marin City party. Shots were fired, a sheriff's deputy suffered a minor eye injury from shattered windshield glass, and another patrol car's rear door was dented.

The sheriff's office put additional patrol units in the area Saturday night in case the rumble resumed. Nothing happened that night, however.

Mrs. Johnson said her son returned home from camp for a week's vacation only Saturday.

LABOR

The AFL-CIO goes along with the reported White House recommendations for a $1.40 minimum wage this year, but demands an increase to $1.60 next year — not in 1968 or later as Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers reportedly recommended.

Labor leaders have been voicing rising resentment against Johnson and Congress for failure to win repeal of legislation that bans union shop contracts in some states and at White House efforts to limit wage demands.

Old Woman Dies, Age Is Disputed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A woman who said she could pick 250 pounds of cotton a day at the age of 119 has died, leaving a dispute over how old she really was.

Grandnieces of Mrs. Ardie Nixon said Oklahoma records showed she was 152 when she died yesterday. But Mrs. Nixon's own estimate, made in 1958, would have set her age at 127 at the time of death.

Mrs. Nixon, who said she was of Choctaw Indian and Puerto Rican ancestry, lived in Sacramento about 14 years. She said in her younger days she used to pick 600 pounds of cotton a day.

FLU

cases, but very few," said Supt. Beter M. Auer.

In the hard-hit Dixie schools which will close the rest of the week, 150 of 600 pupils were absent from Santa Margarita School and 122 from Lucas Valley, Superintendent Willis reported.

In Larkspur, Neil Cummins School had 121 of its 641 students out, a drop from the 143 absent Friday. Henry C. Hall School reported 75 of its 310 pupils absent.

San Rafael elementary schools showed absences ranging from 15 to 25 per cent. Today's 19 per cent was up from the 14 per cent Friday. Thirteen teachers and one principal were out.

Eleven teachers were out at Terra Linda High School, one fewer than Friday. Student absences at both schools were running slightly above Friday when 14 per cent of San Rafael's 1,497 students were out and 19 per cent of Terra Linda's 2,026.

Novato schools had more students absent today than when they closed last Friday. Today there were 1,831 of its 9-726 students out, along with 42 of its 310 teachers.

Novato High School was hardest hit with 504 of the 1,800 students, or 26 per cent, absent. In the elementary schools, heaviest absenteeism was at Pleasant Valley School, with 130, or 29 per cent of its enrollment out. Hill and San Jose Junior High Schools both had 17 per cent absenteeism.

Kent School District reported the following absent today: Greenbrae, 57 out of 377, or 13 more than Friday; Wolfe Grade, 68 of 413, or 16 fewer than Friday; Adaline E. Kent, 164 of 733, nine fewer than Friday. Eight regular and two special teachers were absent and replacements could not be found, causing doubling up of some classes.

Reed School District reported 340 pupils out today, 15 more than Friday, or 20 per cent of its enrollment. Eight teachers were absent.

Tamalpais High School experienced a sharp rise in absenteeism, from 320 Friday to 477 today. Thirteen teachers were out.

The situation was much improved from Friday at Tomales High School and Tomales Bay School, which closed last week; the first in the county to have been hard hit. All teachers were back at both.

At Tomales High School, absences dropped from 122 Friday to 48 of the 204 students today. In Tomales Bay District, 43 of the 161 pupils were out.

Absences rose in Mill Valley and Sausalito schools.

In Sausalito there were 211 out of 952 out of classes, or 22 per cent, compared to 149 Friday. One teacher was absent.

In Mill Valley 21 per cent of the pupils were absent. There were 16 teachers out, compared to 18 Friday.

San Anselmo School District reported 23 per cent of its 2,021 pupils absent today, about the same as last week. Wade Thomas School with 29 per cent absent, was worst hit. Brookside, with 15 per cent out, the least.

Sir Francis Drake High School reported only four teachers out today, compared to 13 Friday. An accurate count of students was unavailable, because so many students who had been absent came back that it took most of the morning to readmit them.

No figures were available from Redwood High School.

State Senator Petersen Plans To Seek Office

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — State Sen. Frank S. Petersen, D-Ukiah, talked as if he were a candidate for Congress today in a statement issued from Sacramento.

He announced he is not seeking re-election to the state senate but will seek "another governmental position."

Petersen declined to specify the other position. "That will be another chapter," he smiled.

Both Senator Petersen and Sonoma State College administrator George E. McCabe had indicated interest in the Congressional race.

If Petersen decides to seek the Democratic nomination for Congress, he will go up against two other Marin candidates who have already announced: Supervisor Thomas T. Stores of Point Reyes Station and Philip Drath of San Rafael, the "peace candidate."

Lawmakers Favor Ending Viet Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders of Congress met with President Johnson today, and one said later that debate on Viet Nam policy should now be ended.

Sen. George Smathers of Florida, secretary of the Senate Democratic conference, told newsmen it is time to close ranks behind Johnson and "our brave fighting men in Viet Nam."

The congressional chieftans, who conferred with the President for about two-and-one-half hours, emerged with words of praise for Johnson's leadership, and statements that the country strongly supports administration policy.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has indicated that committee may want to continue public hearing on Viet Nam policy.

Since Smathers' statement was drafted with White House assistance, it seemed evident that Johnson feels the hearings should be concluded.

Guests Panic, One Dies In Hotel Blaze

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—Fire gutted the three-story Mineola Hotel early today, killing at least one person, as panic-stricken guests leaped from up per floors to safety.

An unidentified body was recovered from the smoldering shell of the 41-room hotel as a crane lifted away the debris.

It was initially feared that as many as 10 of the 36 guests staying at the hotel might have perished, but authorities later said as few as two may have died.

One man, driven to the roof by the flames, jumped and broke his back.

The hotel register was destroyed in the fire making it difficult for police to determine exactly which persons were missing.

WAR

abandoned Viet Cong regimental base camp after heavy shelling and air attacks in an area thick with underbrush and dotted with rubber plantations north of Saigon.

The cavalry troops captured a Viet Cong stronghold near Bong Son far to the northeast after four days of ground assaults and air and artillery barrages. The Communists apparently had retreated into nearby jungle in both regions.

Vietnamese troops reported killing 100 Viet Cong in a two-day battle south of the 1st Air Cavalry action along north-south Highway 1. The government forces were aided by offshore shelling from the 7th Fleet cruiser USS Topeka and air strikes by two C-47s.

The C-47s have earned the nickname, "Puff, The Magic Dragon," because they carry several new gatling guns capable of firing 100 rounds of 20 millimeter shells a second.

Attack Coastal Targets

In the air war, American planes continued to attack coastal targets in North Viet Nam while other aircraft ranged inland to the Dien Bien Phu barracks and airfield complex 145 miles northwest of Hanoi. The region has been bombed almost daily for the past week.

B-52 bombers from Guam today raided a Viet Cong supply area in Thua Thien Province about 400 miles north of Saigon. The target was west of the former capital of Hue, where government troops are on a sweep.

A U.S. spokesman revealed that American planes had dropped 5.8 million propaganda leaflets over the Red River delta rice bowl of North Viet Nam since Sunday.

Auto Leaves Highway, Driver Slightly Hurt

John E. Cook, 67, of 117 Glenwood Avenue, Ross, suffered multiple bruises and a cut right hand at 6 p.m. yesterday when the car he was driving overturned on Highway 101.

The California Highway Patrol reported Cook was northbound on Alto Hill when he came up on a slow moving car and swerved to avoid a collision. His car spun around and rolled over an embankment. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

PARK

includes $10 million to start land acquisition.

The plan calls for a $19 million investment in park facilities, $16 million in the first five years, including more than $2 million in the first year for roads and trails, buildings and utilities.

The bill proposes donation to the federal government of the state park lands, an action that would require approval of California Legislature.

The federal government would purchase for about $4 million redwood stands for addition to the existing Prairie Creek and Humboldt redwood parks, as recommended by the State Park Commission.

In offering the bill sponsored by the 15 senators, Metcalf said: "Within the past three years timber cutting has been under way in 12 areas within the proposed park. Cutting is planned in 11 additional areas. The time is short."

The bill would authorize appropriations of up to $100 million for acquisition of land, waters and improvements thereon and up to $50 million additional, the latter contingent on matching funds from non-federal sources.

"There is not a more majestic, awesome tree" than the redwood, Metcalf said in a prepared address for the Senate. "If it is the patriarch, the giant of the plant and animal kingdoms. The redwood antedates the mammal, dwarfs all other living things."

But, he related, whereas there were an estimated 102 billion board feet of virgin redwoods in the Western forests in 1909, "This was reduced to 35 billion —includin gsome second growth —by 1953."

"Only 86,723 acres of redwoods, not all of it virgin growth, have been set aside in state parks and at the current rate of cutting most of the virgin redwood outside the small state parks will be gone by 1980," he added.

He also said the park would provide 18 miles of coastline, 11 miles of usable beach, Klamath River fishing, abundant wildlife, and watershed protection lands.

In California, major supporters of a redwoods national park are the Save-the-Redwoods League and Sierra Club. The league has already given 2,000 acres of redwood land in the Gold Bluffs Beach and Fern Canyon areas to the state.

Some National park proposals have included use of existing state land for a federal reserve.

Lumber interests in the North Coast region say massive unemployment would result if timber is placed in a park and cannot be cut. American Forest Products Industries Inc., representing several lumber firms, emphasizes that companies now use modern methods of selective cutting and reforestation, preserving redwoods.

Some timber companies have offered to allow public use of their own land as an alternative to a national park.

Joinin Bin the sponsorship were Sens. Paul H. Doulas of Illinois, Ernest Gruening of Alaska; Robert F. Kennedy, of New York; Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts; Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii; Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, Gale W. McGee of Wyoming; Edmund S. Muskie of Maine; Gaylord Nelson of Wyoming; Maurine B. Neuberger of Oregon; Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut; Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland; Stephen M. Young of Ohio and George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

Road Beauty Stressed By Mrs. LBJ

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson called today for consideration of beauty in planning routes for the nation's roads of the future.

The President's wife also urged better cooperation between government agencies and the public in road building projects.

Public hearings are required on new road routes. Mrs. Johnson asked that the hearings be "open minded" and that citizens trying to protect homes, neighborhoods, natural vistas and landmarks "be heard sympathetically" and early.

The First Lady scheduled a 3,000-mile roundtrip plane journey between Washington and Denver today to speak to a gathering of about 1,200 at a luncheon meeting of the 64th annual convention of the American Road Builders' Assn.

Shooting Reported

TOKYO (UPI) — Cambodia claimed yesterday its artillery sank an intruding Thai landing craft, killing at least 30 Thai seamen and wounding many others, the Communist Chinese New China News Agency reported today.

Humphrey Due To Report On Asia Efforts

SEOUL (UPI) —Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today ended his 41,000-mile, nine-nation swing through Asia and the Pacific. He flew home from his last stop reportedly carrying a promise of more Korean troops to fight in Viet Nam.

The Vice President left the Korean capital aboard a special White House jetliner which was scheduled to make one brief stop before arriving in Washington late this afternoon.

REPORT EXPECTED

Humphrey was expected to report immediately to President Johnson on the results of his talks with allied and neutralist leaders on efforts to check Communist expansion in Southeast Asia.

The White House announced in Washington yesterday that Humphrey would brief congressional leaders of both parties on his trip at a conference tomorrow at the executive mansion.

The Vice President flew to Seoul yesterday for talks with high level Korean officials on the dispatch of possibly 20,000 additional troops to South Viet Nam. He refused to say whether final arrangements had been made.

DIVISION PLEDGED

Korean sources, however, said that the last details of an agreement to move another full Korean division, about 20,000 men, to Viet Nam by midsummer were hammered out by Korean and U.S. officials at an all-night session that ended early today.

Korea already has 19,600 men in Viet Nam—the largest force of any nation except the United States and the South Vietnamese government.

Humphrey was reported to have assured Korean President Park Chung Hee that America was firmly committed to protecting Korea's security while it increases its forces in Viet Nam.

Indonesian Troops Quell Anti-Red Mob

SINGAPORE (UPI) —Indonesian troops were reported today to have put down a student demonstration at the palace of President Sukarno in protest against resurgence of Communist influence in the government.

Travelers from Jakarta said at least two and possibly five persons were killed. According to an Australian newsman, Richard Oxenburgh, the students said pro-Communists involved in the Oct. 1 coup attempt to overthrow Sukarno were included in a new cabinet announced by Sukarno Monday.

POPE RECEIVES ASHES TO LEAD LENTEN RITES

VATICAN CITY (AP)—With the sign of the cross marked in ashes on his forehead, Pope Paul VI today led the world's Roman Catholics into the Lenten season of penitence and prayer.

For the first time in his pontificate, Pope Paul blessed the ashes publicly in St. Peter's Basilica.

Then Paolo Cardinal Marello, archpriest of the basilica, marked the sign of the cross on Pope Paul's forehead.

Nasser Rattles Sword Over Arms For Israel

CAIRO (UPI) —Diplomatic observers said today Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's latest anti-American threats could lead to a crisis in relations between the United States and United Arab Republic.

The Arab leader, in an address last night marking Unity Day—the eighth anniversary of the unsuccessful 1958 union of Egypt and Syria—also threatened to renew the war in the Yemen.

Nasser, speaking at Cairo University, lashed out at the United States for providing Israel with military aid. He threatened a "preventive" war if Israel began attempts to develop nuclear weapons.

The Arab leader said U.S. aid to Israel showed "a policy antagonistic to Arab nations and the Arab people." He was believed referring to recent reports that the United States was supplying Israel with 200 Patton tanks.

The unusually tough speech indicated that Nasser was returning to the offensive in Arab politics. He said Israel could not develop nuclear arms without help from the West.

Nasser also had used the term "preventive war" with Israel in a recent interview with Iraqi journalists.

Nasser also threatened to keep his troops in Yemen for as long as five years. He accused Saudi Arabia King Faisal of financing a plot against the U.A.R.

Nasser's attack amounted to a virtual repudiation of the agreement he signed with Faisal last year to end Yemen's three-year civil war between Royalists and Republicans. Nasser had backed the Republicans and Faisal the Royalists.

Under the agreement, Nasser was to have begun withdrawing his troops from Yemen last Nov. 23, but last night he said he would keep them there until Britain has withdrawn its troops from neighboring Aden.

Damascus Taken Over By Leftists

The coup—the 15th in troubled Syria since 1949—was broadcast by Damascus radio in a series of communiques that indicated the rebels planned to speed up the country's march toward socialism.

License Awaited

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Unless written protest is filed, the contractors' state license board announced today it will issue a license March 10 to Withers and Wight, 22 Linda Avenue, San Rafael, for excavating, grading, trenching, etc., Earle W. Wight and Harold P. Withers Jr. are the applicants.

Standby Powers On Tax Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration yesterday rejected proposals that Congress give President Johnson standby power to increase taxes in order to head off inflation.

Joseph W. Barr, undersecretary of the treasury, said there was no need for such action. The lawmakers have already shown that they are willing and able to raise or lower taxes "with great speed" in order to prevent economic boom or bust, he said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the National League of Insured Savings Associations.

Church Council Leaders Favor Peking In U.N.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) —The General Board of the National Council of Churches is on record today as favoring the admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Members of the board approved the wide-ranging policy statement yesterday, 90 to 3, on the first day of a four-day conference.

The board's statement also proposed that a study be made of possible diplomatic recognition of the Chinese government. There was one abstention when the standing vote was taken.

The declaration urged the United States to pursue a policy of support for the seating of Red China in the United Nations "under conditions which take into account the welfare. . and political status of Formosa (Taiwan, seat of the Nationalist Chinese government)".

Cooperation on the exchange of information on food production, birth control and other types of technical development also was urged.

Earlier, the board approved a statement supporting the right and responsibility of an individual to dissent with government policy.

The General Board is the policy maker for the National Council between triennial meetings of the group's General Assembly. The General Assembly, which meets in December at Miami Beach, Fla., is the only body that can overrule a General Board action.

The Red China statement was a recommendation of the National Council's World Order Study Conference which met here last October. The study conference recommended a similar proposal in 1958 but the General Board took no action on it at that time.

Brown Challenged To Probe Compact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George Christopher, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, has urged Gov. Edmund G. Brown to conduct an investigation of a reported pact between Christopher and Ronald Reagan.

"I challenge Mr. Brown to proceed with his hollow threats," Christopher said yesterday.

He said Brown had charged "back door dealings" between Christopher and Reagan, screen actor-candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. According to this report, Christopher and Reagan had agreed to campaign all-out for six months, then whoever was trailing would withdraw.

Reagan denied knowledge of any deals.

Brown said yesterday he might ask a Los Angeles County committee or a state legislative committee to look into the reported pact.

Said Christopher:

"Though I am not a lawyer I can inform him that there is no more violation in my efforts to help my party than there was when he (Brown) insisted that Mr. (Pierre) Salinger retire in favor of Mr. (Alan) Cranston and that Mr. (Lloyd) Hand and Mr. (Thomas) Braden retire in favor of Lt. Gov. (Glenn) Anderson."

Feud Flares Over Use Of Teacher Detectives

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A long-smoldering controversy involving state methods of investigating teachers accused of sex offenses and other illegal acts has broken into the open before the legislature.

At issue is a legislative analyst's recommendation to divest the State Education Department of its investigative staff and put it under the Department of Justice.

A top education aide yesterday battled the proposal before two legislative committees, accusing Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post of "sticking his nose" into forbidden areas and using "sleight-of-hand politics" to accomplish his purpose.

The committees took no action but continued their hearings into the subject.

The charges came from Dr. Everett Calvert, deputy superintendent of public instruction, before an Assembly Ways and Means subcommittee and a Senate Finance subcommittee.

Calver complained that many other state departments have special investigators and there have been no proposals to shift them.

"I don't know why the Department of Education is picked on," he said.

Spokesmen for the analyst said putting the department's investigation activities under the Justice Department would "further government economy, result in more efficient investigative procedures and afford equal state level treatment to all individuals accused of serious crimes."

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco, questioned whether the department's investigators are influenced by department policy. He likened the system to having policemen and judges in the same office.

Calvert cited cases of teachers accused of sex offenses in arguing for departmental retention of its team of investigators.

He said that often when teachers are accused of a sex crime, a judge allows them to "cop out — that is, plead to a lesser charge like disturbing the peace."

He said the investigators are needed to bring the true facts of the case before the credentialing committee of the Board of Education, which recommends whether a teacher should be allowed to continue teaching.

Calvert, arguing for addition of one more investigator to the staff, said there is a backlog of 75 sex cases awaiting investigation.

Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, asked why — if there was a question of sex violations concerned — the local districts didn't take their accusations to the courts. If convicted, he noted, the teacher automatically would lose his credential.

Calvert said many districts want to stay out of the courts "because, frankly, of the unfavorable publicity involved."

"Oh, no guts!" responded Teale.

The senator said that under present system "too often you end up with a double investigation, a credentialing investigation and a criminal investigation."

Earlier, Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, R-Los Angeles, had said the system results "in double jeopardy for a teacher. He's cleared by the courts and then still can lose his ability to teach in this state."

Bircher Claims Nod To Recruit Police

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Northeast director of the John Birch Society said today he feels the society has "a green light" from New York City Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary to sign up more members of the police force.

Thomas Davis made his comment following a statement yesterday by Leary, who was sworn into office on Monday, that he would permit policemen to belong to the John Birch Society if membership did not "impair their efficiency."

Tempers, Tears Break Up Mossler Courtroom

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Defense lawyers for Candace Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, are striving to shake the testimony of state witnesses against the couple. Much heat and some fury is being generated in the process.

A legal outburst yesterday abruptly shortened the court day and sent a defense witness, Nathaniel Allen, to an anteroom weeping.

Allen, a tall Negro with mustache and sideburns, was comforted by Powers and Mrs. Mossler, who are on trial for their lives in the 1964 slaying of her 69-year-old multimillionaire husband, Jacques.

Allen took the witness stand in a defense effort to discredit the testimony of Edward Baart Diehl, a carnival worker with a police record of at least a dozen convictions.

NATHANIEL ALLEN
Witness sobs

BRIBE CLAIM

Diehl had claimed Powers offered him $5,000 to $10,000 in 1962 to kill Mossler with Mrs. Mossler nodding agreement to the proposition. Diehl testified for the state that Allen overheard at least part of the proposal.

Allen testified for the defense that he worked for the Mosslers horse ranch near Galveston, as a handyman at their saddle horse ranch near Galveston, Tex., at the same time as Diehl.

"Did you ever hear a conversation in which Mr. Powers allegedly asked Mr. Diehl to kill Mr. Mossler," asked defense attorney, Marian Rosen.

"No, ma'am," Allen replied.

Allen testified that Diehl came to the witness' home in Galveston recently — he was vague about the date — and told him:

SAID HE LIED

"I'm in trouble. I done lied at the trial and you can help me if you want to."

Under cross - examination by the state, Allen was asked:

"Did he ask you to say you overheard this conversation?"

"He didn't ask me to say it, he asked me did I hear it."

This produced the courtroom hassle. The state claimed being asked if he overheard a conversation was quite different from Allen's testifying that he was asked to say he overheard it. The jury was sent from the courtroom and in the midst of the argument, Assistant State Atty. Arthur Huttoe remarked, "This witness told me outside the courtroom..."

The defense lawyers were on their feet before he could finish, roaring indignation that one of their witnesses had been questioned outside of court by the state.

COURT RECEIVED

Judge George Schulz angrily demanded order, then recessed court half an hour early to let tempers subside.

Since the trial began, the defense has argued that Mossler was a homosexual, and could have been slain by a pervert comrade.

Allen testified in the spring of 1962 he saw Mossler at the Texas ranch with three young men, 22 or 23 years old, who "talked real loud and kind of fancy."

After saddling horses for them, Allen said he had to wait two hours for the group. The witness said he knocked at the door of the horse trailer where they were, and Mossler responded wearing "some kind of a shirt on top."

"And nothing from the waist down?" the witness was asked.

"I didn't see anything," Allen replied.

Dynamite Held Clue To Church Bombing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Sheriff Mel Bailey said today a cache of dynamite found in the woods may lead authorities to the bombers who blew up a church full of Negro children in 1963 and scattered time bombs around the city last year.

He told a news conference that six and a half cases of dynamite, electric blasting caps and timing mechanisms had been discovered in woods outside Birmingham.

Russ Orbit Dogs Into Space Test

MOSCOW (UPI) —Two Russian dogs named Veterok (Breeze) and Ugolyok (Little Coal Nut) whirled through space today to test cosmic conditions and hazards, apparently in preparation for a new Soviet manned space spectacular.

The two canines of undisclosed sex and breed were blasted into orbit yesterday, less than three weeks after Russia's Luna-9 made history's first soft landing on the moon.

An official government announcement said only the dogs were orbited to "conduct biological studies" and gave no indication how long they would stay aloft.

Western space experts here speculated the launching may be a warmup for a manned orbiting mission that could last up to 30 days. The last Soviet manned space shot was in March, 1965.

If the theory is correct, the experts said, it would be logical to use animals as guinea pigs to test conditions, weightlessness, radiation and other space effects.

A new marathon space attempt had been hinted at here since the end of January when Russia announced that crews of three or more were in training for "long range" flights lasting almost a month. Although there was no hint when such a flight would come, informed sources reported it could take place within the next few months.

Survey Is Revealed On Women's Smoking

NEW YORK (UPI) —The health of women, as well as men, is adversely affected by cigarette smoking, a survey made by the American Cancer Society indicated yesterday.

The study was made of 563,000 women and 440,000 men between 1959 and 1963. It showed that more women smokers died of such diseases as lung cancer and coronary ailments than female nonsmokers.

It also showed that the death rate of female smokers compared with male smokers is far lower.

According to the study, the first made among women, the death rate for women who smoke more than a pack of cigarettes a day as compared with women who do not smoke or smoke less than a pack was twice as great for coronary heart disease, four to five times as great for lung cancer, and significantly greater for emphysema, cirrhosis of the liver, rupture of the aorta, and cancer of the mouth, pharynx, esophagus and pancreas.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, author of the survey and director of the cancer society's statistical research bureau, said the reason the death rate for women smokers is smaller than for men is that women usually smoke fewer cigarettes a day, inhale less deeply and start smoking later.

There also is a biological factor, Hammond said. Women are sturdier than men.

President Offers Plan To Clean Nation's Rivers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed to Congress today a vast program to combat pollution, clean entire river basins and change from "a barren America, bereft of its beauty and shorn of its sustenance."

Johnson sent Congress a long special message spelling out details.

The message lacked any price tag for all he has in mind.

But Johnson asked $50 million for a single phase — a demonstration program for cleaning rivers.

"I propose that we begin now," he said, "to clean and preserve entire river basins from their sources to their mouths."

The ultimate goal is to clean all of the nation's rivers, the President said, and eventually these projects will pay their own way from money local communities collect from users of the waters.

Johnson had some other proposals:

That Congress authorize completion of the National Park System by 1972—the 100th anniversary of Yellowstone, the first national park.

He said he will be passing along legislative proposals for development of a nationwide system of trails, particularly near metropolitan areas, patterned along lines of the Appalachian Trail which swings along the mountains from Maine to Georgia.

Johnson asked that the Interior Department be given the responsibility for leading the national "clean water effort." He said he is submitting to Congress a plan to transfer to Interior the Water Pollution Control Administration now in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Fire Extinguisher Lost At Blaze

A large red fire extinguisher was lost while Tamalpais firemen were fighting a fire at the Canteen, adjacent to Tamalpais High School, last Thursday, Fire Chief Herbert Owen reported today.

Owen asked that anyone having knowledge of the extinguisher please return it or notify the fire department. It is two feet tall, weighs 47 pounds, and is valued at $50.

Credit Union Slates Meeting, Elections

Shareholders of the Independent-Journal Federal Credit Union will hold their annual meeting at 8 p.m. March 2 in the classified-circulation department offices of the I-J Building, San Rafael.

They will vote on the nominations of Jack Lucey and Frank Turner to two-year terms as directors and Al Todaro and Kent Dreitzler to two-year terms on the credit committee.

Nimitz Eulogized

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature adopted a resolution yesterday praising Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, who died Sunday. Assemblyman Charles Chapel, R-Palos Verdes Estates, called Nimitz "a sailor's admiral. All the crew liked him."

Two Sailors Saved From Seashore Rock

Two 20-year-old sailors were rescued from a rock on the seashore near Inverness yesterday afternoon, only an hour before high tides might have swept them out to sea.

Rescued in a four-hour operation were George B. Miller of New York City and Edward Wickberg of Alaska, both stationed at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, Vallejo.

The operation was carried out by six county firemen, three sheriff's deputies and the chief ranger at Point Reyes National Seashore, Douglas Patterson.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said the men were in a group of 16 sailors, all students at the Navy nuclear power school at the shipyard, who went to the beach near Pierce Point with two female companions about 2 p.m.

Members of the group, Bloom said, began climbing the cliffs as soon as they arrived. Miller and Wickberg started up a large rock near one known as Elephant Rock. When Wickberg got within 10 feet of the top, he found he could not go up or down without falling. Miller, beneath him also could not get down.

Their companions realized the two were in trouble about 3 p.m. and went to the McClure Ranch to call for help. Meanwhile, said Bloom, the fog came in, and the party was unable to guide rescuers to the rock where the men were stranded.

It took 30 minutes to find them, Bloom said.

Miller and Wickberg were lifted off the rock in the rain by firemen Stanley Rowan and George Thornton. Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertram and Patterson, who descended from a nearby cliff, since the rising tide already had begun to encircle the rock.

Bloom said the tide would almost surely have washed the men off within another hour.

The two men, both wet and cold, were invited into the Kenneth Kehoe ranch to warm up and eat something, Bloom said. They later returned to the shipyard.

Two Inmates Are Isolated After Stabbing, Beating

Two San Quentin inmates were isolated after prison authorities questioned more than 30 convicts yesterday about a fight in the east block Monday which ended with stabbing of one prisoner and beating of his cellmate.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today the two inmates were isolated as a precaution against further incidents of violence breaking out.

All the prisoners on the scene of the fight were questioned but were keeping tight-lipped over who was responsible or why it happened.

Monday's fight was probably in retaliation for an earlier fight "but what was the reason for the earlier fight, we just don't know," said Park.

The two inmates injured on Monday were reported continuing in satisfactory condition at the prison hospital today.

Stabbed in the lung was James Fogle, 29, of Los Angeles County, serving a five-year to life term for robbery. Thomas Smith, 29, also from Los Angeles, was beaten over the head, apparently with a piece of pipe. He is serving six months to 14 years for forgery.

Neither the knife or the pipe length has been found, prison authorities said today.

Six Women Die As Blast Rocks Fireworks Plant

DUNBAR, Pa. (UPI) —An explosion ripped a fireworks plant at the Keystone Manufacturing Co. here today, killing six women and injuring 10 other workers.

The injured—eight women and two men — were taken to nearby Connellsville State Hospital. The extent of their injuries was not known immediately.

The morning blast demolished a frame building, one of six structures producing fireworks in this western Pennsylvania community of about 1,500 persons. Dunbar is about 38 miles southeast of Pittsburgh.

The force of the blast, felt as far as three miles away, damaged the five other structures.

The dead and injured had been working in the same building. Officials said they were mixing chemicals when the explosion occurred.

Coins made this year will be dated 1965 and carry no mint marks.

Tidelands Wrangling Held Costly

LONG BEACH (AP)—Federal and state wrangling for jurisdiction over tideland oil areas has cost California $1.6 billion in a 10-year period, says a former oil company president.

A. C. Rubel, former president and chairman of the board of Union Oil Co. of California, told delegates to an "Offshore Exploration Conference" here yesterday that California consumers were required to purchase 938 million barrels of imported oil while many times that amount of offshore oil remained untapped.

Rubel said the state and federal governments must "permit a rational development of our offshore areas" to prevent a recurrence of the problem.

The conference, which is attended by representatives from petiroleum aerospace and oceanographic industries, will conclude tomorrow.

Dixie Trustees To Talk Of Pay

Trustees of Dixie School District tonight will discuss substantial raises requested in teacher salaries.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis has recommended adjustments in the salary schedule that would provide an average raise of $500 per year for a teacher. "We've got to compete with other districts," Willis said.

Controversial Priest Wants To Form Union

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Remember the "rebel priest" who asked the Pope to fire Los Angeles' archbishop? Now the Rev. William H. DuBay has a new idea:

A collective-bargaining union for the nation's 58,000 Roman Catholic priests.

"We need an American federation of priests just as teachers need their American Federation of Teachers — because priests, like teachers, are employes," says the 31-year-old chaplain of St. John's Hospital.

Through collective bargaining, he says, "priests can arrive at a formal contract with their chancery on the issues of professional standards and rights, personnel practices and wages."

He favors AFL-CIO affiliation, but: "we can hardly ask the AFL-CIO to charter us until we get our union off the ground. Only priests can organize priests."

DuBay described his proposal in speaking by invitation Feb. 14 before President Robert Maynard Hutchins and the staff of the center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara.

The center had received proofs of his book, "The Human Church," which suggests a priests' union and is due for publication March 4 by Doubleday. DuBay's Santa Barbara remarks were distributed to news media over the weekend by a friend, Roger P. Kuhn, and newsmen descended on the mild-mannered priest Monday for elaboration at his hospital apartment.

In his Santa Barbara talk, DuBay said:

"It's time for priests to create for themselves the freedom to do those things for which they were trained and to which they aspire.

"The business concerns of church administrators have all but stifled the effectiveness of priests and have created widespread dissatisfaction among priests over their inability to realize their professional aspirations during their lifetime."

The Squatters' Life In Desert Canyon

MECCA (AP) — Broken-down autos, dilapidated house trailers and tattered shacks mark the homesites of squatters who have occupied a remote Southern California desert canyon for the winter.

The squatters — about 300 of them — live on Indian and government land, have no nearby water, no sanitation facilities and little hope for the future, the Los Angeles Times reported.

The men, women and children have chosen to winter by the steep sandstone cliffs on an old Indian reservation in Box Canyon, about six miles from this small community in Riverside County.

Water is hauled in by the bucket and jugful, picked up 20 miles north at drinking fountains in Coachella City Park.

Meals are cooked over open fires of mesquite wood, and candles are used for light.

The families include farm laborers, pensioners and drifters.

The pensioners said they went to Box Canyon because their "Social Security is too little. We don't know where else to go."

The one sign of civilization is the school bus that passes through the canyon daily to pick up the children.

Principal Murray Southard of the Mecca Elementary School said, "We opened our doors to the squatter children. We figure those people are living there. Their children should go to school."

Ralph Catron, 22, his wife, Joan, 21, and their two children have been living in a 1956 station wagon for weeks.

"We came down from Stockton. The car is our home, everything we own, except for the old mattress, a couple of blankets, the rags on our backs, the crate of potatoes and a quart of milk for the baby," Catron explained.

"I make $25 a week in the fields. I've looked all over for a job. I never went to high school, but I am a good mechanic's helper. I can't find work," Catron said.

Phil Sigley, 24, his wife Lola, 27, and their two children, came from Medford, Ore.

"We made our house in three days from stuff we found at the Coachella dump," Mrs. Sigley said.

The Rev. Melvin McIntyre ,a Baptist minister, and his wife, Duffie, said they have lived in Box Canyon for several months.

"We're camping on Indian land," Mrs. McIntyre said. "Only no one knows where the Indians are that own the land. That's why we haven't been chased out of here."

Around the McIntyre trailer are 25 trunks and boxes which he said contain his theology library. He said his last pastorate was in Wellfleet, Neb., two years ago. He said he sometimes preaches to the squatters.

"But most of them are running from God and want to be left alone. They have no hanker' for my preachin'," he said.

McCarthy Slates Fairfield Talk

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, will speak in Fairfield at a dinner sponsored by the Correctional Officers Assn. of California at 7 p.m. today.

Tomorrow McCarthy will continue his campaign for re-election with a luncheon address before the Vacaville Rotary Club. Tomorrow night, the Marin senator will fly to San Diego to attend a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

Sausalito Club Creates A Park

Sausalito, city of tiny parks, is gaining a new park over the old "hole" on the sandspit adjacent to Humboldt and Anchor streets.

It is being built as a community project and paid for by the Sausalito Rotary Club on a volunteer basis. It will contain walks, a group of benches on cement foundations and a number of low shrubs and some salt grass.

Project chairman Robert Rogers said today that planting is being done so that it will not interfere with later plans for the area which has tentatively been proposed to become either a civic center or public library site. Work is expected to be completed within a month.

NOW BECAUSE of the availability of convenient canned condensed soups and chowders, of canned and frozen fish, marvelous meal-in-a-dish soups are within the reach of everyone. Some soups from the sea are condensed in a can to just open and heat. Many other versions can be made in a jiffy by adding a few ingredients to canned condensed soups.

Soups From The Briny Deep

The pages of American and European literature have frequent praise for soups from the briny deep. Sometimes chunky with seafood, and as thick as stew — or smooth and creamy as a delicate bisque, these fragrant, flavorful soups have caused famous authors to rush from the table to pen their delight before the memory escaped them.

In an early scene, Herman Melville placed Ishmael, the hungy hero of Moby Dick in a hostelry where hot and heavenly chowders made with cod or clams were served for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Before this time, the first French treatise on soup, written by M. Taillevant, master cook to Charles VII, in 1456, carried a wealth of fish soup recipes. In the 19th Century, Lewis Caroll composed the immortal lines to a sea-soup, "Beautiful soup, so rich and green, waiting in a hot tureen," and William Makepeace Thackery turned to poetry in praise of the national soup of France, "This Bouillabaisse a noble dish is—a sort of soup, or broth or brew, or hotchpotch of all sorts of fishes."

The American settlers benefited from abundant seafood available along the stretches of seacoast which girdled the new western continent. Chowders and seafood soups were popular, inexpensive nourishment to bolster their health and energy.

'Balanced Diet' From Four Groups

NEW YORK (UPI) —The "balanced diet" considered necessary for the body to function in best vigor and health can be assured simply by eating every day foods from four groups, says the Nutrition Foundation.

The foundation, a non-profit organization supporting research and education in nutrition, lists the groups as:

The meat group: This includes beef, veal, lamb, pork, organ meats (liver, kidney, heart), poultry, eggs, fish and shellfish. Alternates are dry beans, dry peas, nuts or peanut butter. Two or more servings are needed every day. This group contributes protein needed for growth and repair of body tissue as well as vitamins and minerals.

The milk group: Includes milk in every form: fluid, dry, whole, skim, and canned, as well as cheese, cream and ice cream. Children and teenagers need 3 to 4 or more glasses a day, and adults should have the equivalent of 2 glasses of milk for calcium, high quality protein, and many other food factors.

The vegetable-fruit group: Contributes essential vitamins and minerals not found in the meat group. At least four servings a day should be eaten by everyone. Vitamin C is especially required each day since the body does not store this essential need. Citrus fruits, cantaloupe, strawberries, broccoli and green pepper are high in vitamin C. A dark-green or deep-yellow vegetable should be selected at least every other day for vitamin A.

The bread-cereal group: Includes rice and macaroni products. Foods that are whole grain, enriched or restored provide worth-while amounts of protein, iron and several of the B vitamins and food energy. At least 4 servings should be eaten each day. A slice of bread is a serving, as is ½ to ¾ of a cup of cooked cereal, macaroni, noodles, rice or spaghetti.

Other foods, including butter, salad oils and sugars, round out the diet and contribute flavor, appetite appeal and energy.

BAKED FISH WITH VEGETABLES

2½-pounds whole fish, cleaned with head and tail left on Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon butter, soft
Paprika
2 small onions (peeled, quartered and cut into thin strips)
4 scallions, thinly sliced
1 large rib celery, thinly sliced
1 large carrot, thinly sliced
Parsley sprigs, chopped
1 can (6 ounces) mushroom crowns, drained
2 tablespoons olive oil

Sprinkle inside of fish with salt and pepper; put bits of butter in fish and rub some on top; sprinkle top with paprika. Line a rectangular shallow baking dish with enough heavyweight foil so that edges may be lapped over vegetables. Place fish in center of dish. Mix remaining ingredients adding salt and pepper; place at sides of fish; lap foil over and press down to cover vegetables but not fish. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven until fish flakes easily and vegetables are cooked — 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Tossed Salad Has Peanuts And Chicory

SPECIAL TOSSED SALAD

1 medium head lettuce, torn into bite-sized pieces
3 cups knife-shredded chicory (curly leaf endive)
2 large tomatoes, cut in wedges

¼ cup each wine vinegar and finely chopped dry roasted peanuts

In a salad bowl, toss together the lettuce, chicory, tomatoes and cheese. Beat or shake together the oil and vinegar; pour about ½ cup of the dressing over the salad; toss lightly; sprinkle with the peanuts. (Refrigerate remaining oil-vinegar, tightly covered, for other salad use.) You may add salt and pepper to taste to the salad. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Ingredients Can Be Changed In Japanese Dish Tempura

TOKYO (AP)—Tempura is one of the most famous dishes in Japanese cooking. For it seafood, fish and vegetables are encased in a batter and come out of the frying kettle with a crisp and golden coating.

Considerable ingenuity can be exercised in preparing Tempura. The ingredients can be changed according to what is in season or available. Among the possible ingredients are different varieties of shell fish and innumerable vegetables.

TEMPURA

Large shrimp
Whole small white-fleshed fish, cleaned and boned
Fresh mushrooms
Green onions (scallions)
Carrots
Eggplant
Green pepper
Oil for deep-frying
Egg
Flour
Soy sauce
Lemon juice
Cooked rice

Shell and devein shrimp, making sure to leave on the tails. Slit each shrimp lengthwise along the back without cutting all the way through; open flat, butterfly style.

Slice the fish crosswise. If you like, you may use fish fillets and cut them into bite-size pieces.

Wipe mushrooms with a damp cloth; if stems are long, cut as short as caps.

Pare carrots and cut into thin strips.

If baby (miniature size) eggplant is available, use it and leave unpared; slice each in half lengthwise, then remove seeds. Or use a regular size eggplant and leave unpared; slice, then cut into wide strips.

Remove seeds and membranes from green pepper; cut into strips.

Heat oil to 350 to 400 degrees. (Sesame seed oil is suggested; you may use a substitute, but it will not give so tasty a flavor.)

Combine 1 egg and 1 cup chilled water. Fold in 1 cup sifted flour; batter should not be smooth. (Do not make great quantities of this batter; prepare only this amount as needed.)

Dip the shrimp, fish slices, mushrooms, green onion, carrot, eggplant and green pepper in flour, then in batter. Fry in hot oil for 4 minutes or until coating is golden brown.

Serve at once with a dip of lemon-flavored soy sauce. Accompany with hot cooked rice.

Allow 2 to 3 portions of each of the ingredients for each person to be served.

AT THE FIRST and only open house to be held at Molo's Craft School in Mill Valley on Sunday will be seen "the second best collection of antique toys in the United States" and many other things. In preparation for an open house Sunday she dusts some of the treasured items among thousands in her collections. From left are an 1880 French doll, a black iron stove having a World War I history, a calliope, an Indian head from early days in Leadville, Colo., and a 100-year-old doll sitting on a 100-year-old chair.

MOLO LOWELL, who teaches children and adults to make anything they want at her crafts school in Mill Valley, often works on her sculpture with a flexible shaft. Here she carves a garden tiki that will hold a basin for a bird feeder. She is making it from one of the columns in a former old San Francisco mansion.

Molo Lowell To Unveil 'Shop'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Many people must have wondered what kind of "shop" is located at 10 Locust Ave., Mill Valley.

They will have a chance to find out on Sunday when the public will have the first and only opportunity to visit Molo's Craft School during an open house from 1 to 6 p.m.

This is the official name of the place, for Mrs. Arthur Carter Lowell teaches children and adults to make anything they want there, but it is really also a museum filled with thousands of amazing things.

IN IT ARE NOT only what Mrs. Lowell has been told is "the second best collection of antique toys in the United States including fire engines, dolls, and doll stoves," but collections of old English pewter, old books, civil war photographs, the things children have made and Mrs. Lowell's own sculptures in wood. Nothing is for sale.

Named Mary, the sculptor and artist was known as Molly, and from the first two letters of this name and first two of Lowell she coined "Molo," which she prefers to be called.

She has a very special reason for the open house. Children and their education have always been her major interest, and she has decided to make the open house a benefit for a scholarship. Donations will be given to the Newton Center Foundation Fund maintained by the Newman Club at the College of Marin.

Brother Nicholas, assistant chaplain of the club, with other members of its board of directors, will select a student to receive the money that is to be used to help him attend the college of his choice.

Several members of the club will asssist Mrs. Lowell with preparations for the open house, as well as some of the young children in her classes.

MOLO LOWELL is a most remarkable woman.

The craft school has been in Mill Valley less than two years, but she started it, with her present partner, Alexander Williams, better known as Al, in 1938, several years after her husband died. It was first located in various places in San Francisco before they found the present spot.

Molo and Al not only taught the children but took them in groups of six, ranging in age from 6 to 14 years, on five trips to Europe and many others in this country. Many of the children were from prominent families in San Francisco.

"If children can go abroad," she says, "they are much more appreciative of America."

At her school in Mill Valley Molo and Al teach children to make anything they want to make in classes held after school and on Saturday mornings. Adults may come on Fridays from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

"Women and children don't learn to use their hands nowadays," she said emphatically. "They're push-button babies!"

USING MODELS or working from their imagination, the children make such things as ships, trains, boats, planes, cannons or jewelry in wood, ceramics or metal. The only rules are that they may not start with anything that is prefabricated, and they must finish anything they start.

The same goes for adults. "One woman," she recalled, "made a doll house that was raffled off for $2,000."

How did she learn to do all these things so that she could teach others?

Molo confesses that despite having a very proper mother, she was a tomboy. Living with her family in an isolated part of North Dakota, she had to be resourceful in finding things to do.

"I was mostly interested in horses, dogs and guns, but I could always draw ever since I can remember," she said.

Her father, reluctant at first, finally let her enroll at the Chicago Art Institute, where she became a student of Charles Mulligan, the sculptor who worked on carvings of the four United States presidents' faces designed by Gutzon Borglum for the national monument on the face of Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

He chose Molo as one of six students to work with him.

"I DID WORK on the great wax models," she said, "and I was supposed to do some of the carving on Lincoln's nose, but mother was so afraid I'd fall off the scaffolding, I had to give it up."

She later went on to teach herself to make sculptures of wood. A madonna and child are among her favorite subjects, and there are several of these in her "museum."

"Mulligan told me he thought I'd be happier to get married and have children," she said.

This she proceeded to do by marrying Arthur Carter Lowell, a member of the famed James Russell Lowell family. He was one of the youngest district attorneys in the State of California when he held that position in Auburn.

SHE RECALLS that this was one of the happiest periods of her life when she was very active in the life of the town.

"I started the hot lunch program in the school," she said, "and for two years that school never had to be closed because of illness."

Molo Lowell has two children and five grandchildren.

International Show Planned By Scouts

February is International Friendship month for the Girl Scouts of America and Marin Scouts are celebrating by becoming acquainted with the cultures of countries where there are members of the World Assn. of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides.

On the Belvedere-Tiburon peninsula, the Junior Scouts are practicing songs and folk dances of Australia and will present them at a joint meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m., in the Reed School Auditorium.

Perdita Avery of Melbourne, Australia, will show slides of her homeland as well as her activities there as a member of Girl Guides. Miss Avery is an American Field Service student at Redwood High School and is living with her American "family", Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merklin of Hillhaven on the Peninsula. Their daughter, Rita, is also a Girl Scout and attended the Roundup in Idaho last summer.

The Mill Valley-Sausalito neighborhood Girl Scouts will present their annual "Friendship Fair" on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center. Each of the twenty participating troops has prepared an exhibit on the country they selected from the 68 member countries of the Girl Guide and Girl Scout Assn.

In addition, several troops will present a program including songs and dances of the various countries. A special feature will be an authentic Japanese tea ceremony by Troop 1964, whose leader is Mrs. Joseph Schmiedel of Mill Valley. This Junior troop was taught the ceremony by Mrs. Albert F. Kerrs who has spent several years in Japan.

Senior Troop 427, advised by Mrs. Robert Graver, has prepared a camping exhibit with emphasis on last summer's Roundup in Idaho. Cadette Troop 1650, whose leaders are Miss Sarah Walker and Miss Anne Drever, both of San Rafael, will present the colors. The mistress of ceremonies is Miss Cynthia Norall, member of the Cadette troop.

The programs have been prepared by Brownie Troop 979, which meets in Marin City under the leadership of Mrs. Vincent de Nevers and Mrs. Robert E. Mertle, both of San Rafael.

Club To Hear Astrology Talk At Guest Day

Fritzie Armstrong will present a lecture on "Astrology and Personality" as the program for tomorrow's guest day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

This will be a return engagement for Mrs. Armstrong, who has taught metaphysics and lectured throughout the state for many years and is an authority on astrology, numerology and palmistry. She is also a student of world religions.

Tea will be served following the program by Mrs. William Niedecker, assisted by Mesdames De Witt Clark, Willis Elliott, A. H. Deckman, James Mason, Ellis Berry, Louis Starr, Irvin Larsen, B. A. Benesh, Robert Graver and F. J. Grew.

Receiving guests will Mesdames Ashby Streeter, Albert Con Der Werth and C. I. Dennis. Pouring will be Mesdames Robert Andresen, John V. Buckley, Marcel Ehrer and J. M. Hahn.

Play To Depict Failing Marriage

The first in a series of programs in religious education will be given tomorrow at the Unitarian Church in San Rafael when Plays For Living will present "Broken Circle" at 8 p.m., announced Mrs. Tommy Walker of Greenbrae, chairman. The play, which deals with a failing marriage and the impact this has upon the children in the family, has a professional cast of three and is directed by the well known director, Mike Kitay. MUSIC TO ACCOMPANY ART SHOW

Art and music are joined in six presentations scheduled by the Marin Society of Artists, called "The Sound of Art." First will be a program by the Recorders, (from left) Leo E. Christiansen, Peter Bellinger, Sue Erlenkotter, and Albert Spalding, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Frances Young Gallery of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. The gallery will open at 7 p.m. for an all-media painting show. There will be no admission charge, announced Robert Pinne, program chairman.

Graphic Arts Show Features Marin Artist

The work of Henry Rasmusen, Mill Valley artist and author, is being shown in a Philadelphia exhibition of American printmakers.

In celebration of its 50th anniversary, the Philadelphia Art Alliance has selected Rasmusen and a number of other artists for their "considerable contribution to the development of the graphic arts."

Rasmusen is the author of "Printmaking with Monotype," an authoritative work on the technique of painting on a slick surface such as glass, placing a sheet of paper on this and rubbing the back to make a print.

He is preparing for a one-man exhibition in Salt Lake City in April and conducting painting classes in his Mill Valley studio at 198 Lovell Avenue.

To Attend Seminar

Dr. George A. Herman, San Rafael chiropractor, will attend the mid-winter educational seminar of International Chiropractors Assn. in Los Angeles this weekend.

Andrew Anderson earned a reputation as one of the worst printers in Scotland in the 17th Century when he printed a Bible with 2,000 errors in the New Testament alone.

Premiers, Revivals Billed For Dominican Concert

Another series of American music "firsts" will be on the program when the Dominican College 60-voice Festival Chorus, 30 Oakland Symphony members and two vocal soloists present a program of old and new music Monday.

The third and last program in the College's American Music Festival will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Portions of the program will be conducted by Wilbur Russell, director of music at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, and by Robert Hughes, assistant conductor of the Oakland Symphony. Soloists will be tenor Kenneth Small and soprano Gwen Curatilo, singer of leading soles in the San Francisco Opera.

Highlighting the program will be a West Coast premiere of Lou Harrison's "Four Strict Songs" for baritones and orchestra, based on the philosophy of the Navajo Indian. Each song is tuned to a different five-note scale. The scales consist of mathematically pure intervals, calling for special tuning of the piano.

Other instruments used are strings, trombones, harp, kettledrums struck with the fingers, a set of water bowls and maracas. Robert Hughes, a student of Harrison, will conduct the songs.

Opening the program will be a performance of the "Misa Viscaina," a Franciscan Mission Mass of the early 19th Century, written by Franciscan Padre Narciso Duran for his Indian congregation at Mission San Jose.

Merry music of New England and a set of white spirituals will follow. The program will also demonstrate the art of the early American tunesmith. Of special interest will be the "Northfield Fuguing Tune" of Jeremiah Ingalls.

The program will conclude with Harrison's songs and two American Moravian solo arias and a double anthem for chorus with orchestra. The arias and chorus are from collections of 18th and 19th century music preserved in American Moravian centers in Bethlehem, Pa., and Winston-Salem, N.C. Miss Curatilo will be featured in the two arias.

The program will close with the double anthem for chorus titled "Hosanna."

'All My Sons' Revival In Fourth Week

Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" enters the fourth week of its seven-week run at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo Friday.

Produced under the theater's recent federal grant, the production has been described by Bay Area critics as a "thoughtful," "moving" and "strongly dramatic production."

Performances, under the direction of Elizabeth Berryhill, continue Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30, Sundays at 7:30, through March 20.

During foggy weather at sea, international rules require ships to sound warnings every two minutes.

Blue, Gold Dinner

The annual blue and gold dinner of Cub Scout Pack 36, sponsored by Coleman School Parent-Teacher Assn. of San Rafael, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the San Rafael Scout Hall.

Snow, Freeze Spreads Over Most Of Texas

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wind-blown snow storm left a covering up to more than 10 inches in the central part of Texas today and the belt of precipitation extended deep into some Southern areas.

Two inches of snow hit Del Rio, on the Mexican border, and three inches covered normally sunny San Antonio. Heaviest amounts were 10 inches and more at Mercury, in the central region. Hazardous - driving warnings were issued. Austin reported six inches of snow. Public and parochial schools were closed and classes were suspended at least until noon for 26,000 students at the University of Texas.

Freezing temperatures chilled many sections of Texas except most of the immediate coastal areas. The mercury dropped to 28 at San Antonio and Austin and 16 at Lubbock, which had no snow.

Highways were closed last night in much of the San Antonio area and school authorities planned to close schools today in San Antonio. Several schools were closed Tuesday in central Texas from the Big Bend country to the Red River Valley.

The snow spread eastward and accumulations in Arkansas ranged from two to eight inches. The wet belt was expected to spread into areas in the middle Mississippi Valley.

More rain doused southern Florida. Miami was soaked with 4½ inches of rain in 24 hours and more than 4 inches fell at West Palm Beach in a 30-hour period.

Subzero cold continued in parts of the north central region and in Montana. Below - zero readings were reported again today in sections of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Jordan Urges Brown To Relent

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The man who takes care of state documents, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, has added his voice to those demanding proposed constitutional changes be considered now.

Jordan urged yesterday that Gov. Brown put the matter before the current special session, as asked by a special commission that proposed major revisions in the bulky State Constitution.

"This should not be a question of one man deciding that first the legislature and then the voters of California should not have a chance to vote on such a far-reaching matter," Jordan commented.

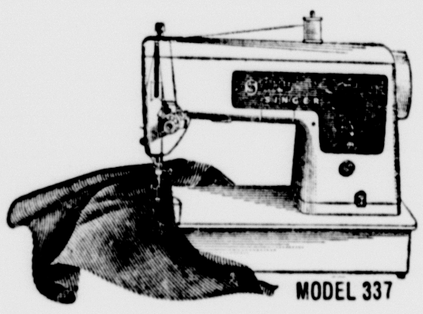

Negro Gang Stabs Youths After Game

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Police said a gang of Negroes, swinging fists and slashing knives, charged a group of spectators leaving a basketball game last night and stabbed seven white teen-agers.

Patrolman Tom Vernon said attackers, in a group described by officers as a "large crowd," charged through the spectators and apparently stabbed or struck individuals at random.

One of the injured, Leon B. Pierce, 18, was hospitalized in critical condition with stab wounds in his stomach and back. Police said several other persons were reported struck by rocks, but did not require medical aid.

The incident took place at Douglas High School gymnasium after Douglas, an all-Negro school, defeated predominantly white Putnam City High School, 67-57, for Oklahoma's Mid-State Conference championship.

Teather Voted For Office Use

A. R. Teather, former director of the Almonte Sanitary District, voted with the four other directors on Oct. 29, 1963, to lease office space he owns to the district.

The county counsel's office was checking today to see whether the apparent conflict of interest violated a law.

Minutes for the meeting show that former director Francis M. Gelardi moved that the district rent space from Teather. The vote was unanimous.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, whose office is preparing the annnual audit for the district, said he requested Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino for an opinion on the legality of the action.

The action came after directors received notice the lease on their former office was being cancelled because of expansion of a restaurant next door. That space was being rented for $45 a month.

Teather offered to lease his space at $40 a month, but in July, 1964, he raised the rent to $50. There was never any formal lease agreement.

Novato District On Council List

The Novato City Council will consider setting up a maintenance district for the Lynwood Park area when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

In the past, the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. has assumed the job of maintaining planting strips in Sunset Parkway east of South Novato Boulevard. That organization has found it increasingly difficult to collect dues to maintain the islands and asked the city to take over.

Other items to come before the council include a six month report on spending compared to the money budgeted, the capital improvement budget, and setting a load limit on Center Road.

Radio, Purses Stolen

William L. Peters reported to Mill Valley police at 9:48 p.m. yesterday that someone entered his house at 50 Amicita Avenue, apparently crawling through a kitchen window, and stole a portable stereo radio, two speakers and two girls' purses, the total value being $100.

Supervisors Raise Funds Objection

It is the county board of supervisors, not the state, which objects to the holdover of street improvement funds by cities under the urban thoroughfares agreement, Asst. County Public Works Director Joseph H. Henderson said today.

The Independent-Journal Monday reported the state had raised the objection.

Dinner Will Launch Jewish Welfare Drive

Marin Division in the 1966 Jewish Welfare Federation campaign will launch its fund drive with a kickoff dinner at 6 p.m. March 20 at Temple Rodef Sholom, San Rafael.

Russell Shatz, division vice chairman, of San Rafael, is in charge of dinner arrangements. Dr. Isaac N. Silberman of Mill Valley is division chairman.

Storer Asks Delay On Jury Hiring Review

Discussion of the grand jury's report on hiring of a county economic development director may be postponed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow because Supervisor Thomas T. Storer is ill with pneumonia.

Storer, in bed with an attack of pneumonia that developed from an earlier case of influenza, has asked that the discussion be postponed until he can be present. He has advocated abolishing the position.

The grand jury recommended the board review the need for the position, and if it is found needed, go again through the process of advertising the job and hiring a director. The jury's report was highly critical of the methods used in hiring John M. Douglas at a salary of $2,400 per year above that which had been advertised for the position.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, himself recovering from the flu, said today he is not certain whether the board will honor Storer's request, as Supervisor Peter H. Behr will miss the next three meetings while away on vacation, and chairman Byron W. Leydecker will miss the meeting of March 22.

The board is to take up Behr's proposal for a county bond issue for park acquisition tomorrow, also.

Night schools began in the U.S. by private enterprise as a result of a requirement that apprentices were to be given an education by their masters; the masters started evening classes so as not to interfere with day work.

Two Superior Court Judges File To Run

Judges Samuel W. Gardiner and Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court have filed declarations of intent to run in the June 7 primary for those posts.

Judge Haley was named by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to replace Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., who moved up from Superior Court to the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco. Judge Haley took the office Jan. 5, 1965.

Judge Gardiner was named to the newly created fourth superior court bench by Governor Brown and took office in August, 1964.

Query Leads To Stolen Video Sets

Two of four television sets stolen from Klein's TV at 14 Princess Street, Sausalito, on Feb. 11, have been recovered by police after being traced by a 1966 television cord.

Sausalito detective Jim Kane said one set was recovered from the apartment of James L. and Carol Walker at 1476 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and the other from the apartment of Eddie L. and Callie West in the same building.

Mrs. Walker went to Klein's TV in San Rafael, Kane reported, to ask for a 1966 television cord since her set had no cord. The two sets were recovered following Mrs. Walker's inquiry. No arrest has been made but Sausalito and San Rafael police departments are continuing investigation, said Kane.

No Plan Session

There will be no meeting tonight of the Mill Valley Planning Commission due to the fact commissioner Normand Black is ill with influenza and two other commissioners are out of town. The next meeting will be on March 8 at 8 p.m. in city hall, said Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

Slain Woman Leaves Estate To Husband

Petition for probate of the will of murder victim Marjorie S. Rudolph has been filed in Marin Superior Court.

Both the will, which leaves her estate to her husband, Leroy, and a community property agreement were signed by Mrs. Rudolph on Jan. 21, only 11 days before her slain body was found in the family home at 19 Carroll Court, San Rafael.

Her estate was estimated only at over $20,000. In event of her husband's death, according to the will, trust funds will be set up for the two daughters, Patricia Lee Sovulewski, of 12 Mabry Way, Santa Venetia, and Mary Stone of Mountain View, and to grandchildren.

The murder has not been solved.

Novatan Injured

Gary W. Axthelm, 26, of Novato, suffered minor injuries when the car he was driving hit a parked car in Petaluma early Sunday. He and a passenger, Andrea Lopez, 22, of Petaluma, were treated at Petaluma General Hospital.

Tax Collector Favors Four-Payment Scheme

Would you rather have your county property tax bill split into four equal payments, instead of the two payments schedule now in force?

A four-payment schedule has been proposed by Marin Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez and Los Angeles County Tax Collector Harold Oostly. The proposal was endorsed last week by the legislative committee of the California Tax Collectors Assn.

If the full association endorses the plan, it would be introduced as a bill in the 1967 legislature, Fontez said.

Instead of the two payments Dec. 10 and April 10, the payments would be due the first of September, November, March and May. Payment of the entire bill prior to Sept. 1 would give the property owner a two per cent discount.

Fontez said there is considerable pressure to change the present schedule, mainly because the December payment falls so close to Christmas and the April payment so close to the deadline for income taxes.

Three Injured In Cruiser Fire, Blast

Three men were injured last night — one seriously — when a cabin cruiser exploded, caught fire and sank at moorings near Point Reyes Coast Guard station.

The boat's owner, Joseph H. Mendoza, 47-year-old Point Reyes rancher and dairyman, suffered second degree burns to the face and hands. He was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today.

Also injured in the explosion were Coast Guardsmen Roger D. Dewey, chief boatswain's mate, and Joseph J. Ribault, engineman second class, who were assisting the owner pump out the water. They were treated for minor burns.

Dewey said today he and Ribault were with Mendoza aboard his 40-foot cruiser, Scotty Joe, at about 7:15 p.m. when the explosion occurred.

"All I know is that suddenly there was a sheet of flame and we got off that boat pretty quick," said Dewey. "It happened shortly after we had helped Mendoza start the engine to get the water out. We had taken every precaution. How it happened is a mystery to me."

The owner's wife, Mrs. Doris Mendoza, drove the three injured men to the Coast Guard station, where they were taken by ambulance to the hospital.

Model Homes Will Start In Marin City In 90 Days

Construction of six model houses will begin on Donohue Street in Marin City within 90 days, and construction of Marin City's permanent commercial buildings will start as soon as final Federal Housing Authority approval is received.

H. Ralph Taylor, vice president, California Development Co., made this report to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency Commission at a special meeting last night in St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church.

The houses will be in a price range of $32,000 to $36,000. Taylor said the developer and the agency are convinced there is a market for more homes in Marin City.

Twenty of the 31 redevelopment homes already built have been sold, with 10 sales being to persons outside Marin City, said Donald O. Stutsman, agency executive director.

In closed session prior to the meeting at the church, redevelopment agency commissioners discussed possible litigation regarding certain Marin City improvements and agreed to take up the subject March 2 in open meeting.

Housing authority commissioners, in closed session, discussed condemnation of a parcel of land in Santa Venetia for housing for the elderly, but took no action.

They approved leasing a temporary residential building in Marin City for $1 a year for use as a teen-age center, subject to Tamalpais High School District approval, the district being owner of the land.

Commissioners also approved use of the maintenance center near the community center for a Southern Marin boys' club.

Fireman Counts Coup On Mill Valley Rat

A rat which appeared in the kitchen of Mrs. Sue Craik, 54 Magee Avenue, Mill Valley, at 8:33 a.m. today was despatched a few minutes later by Fire Capt. Henry Pierroz.

Mill Valley police received a call saying Mrs. Craik could not get the rat out of her kichen. Pierroz said he arrived to find the rat on the sink. He killed it.

Assault, Battery Charges Dropped

Assault and battery charges against Stephen Thurman Post, 23, of San Francisco, were dropped Monday after a hearing in San Francisco Municipal Court.

Post had been accused of threatening his estranged wife, Joyce Ann Post, 20, of 211 Canal Street, San Rafael, with a knife while driving along Highway 101 in Marin County.

Announcer Faces Morals Charges

A Millbrae television announcer was arrested Monday at his home by Sausalito and San Rafael police and booked at Marin County jail on charges of child molesting.

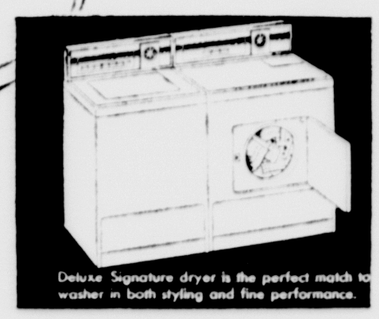

He is Eugene J. McCann Jr., 39, announcer for KRON-TV.

Sausalito police said McCann is alleged to have committed "innumerable acts" of child molesting between February of last year and a few weeks ago, with several youths in a boat off Sausalita waters and in San Rafael. Two youths are teen-agers and one a 12-year-old. Warrant for his arrest was issued by the Marin County District Attorney's office.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Low-Card Lead Convention Tells Partner Much About Your Hand

During the last 15 years most of the best bridge players have adopted the lead of the lowest card when they hold three small cards in a suit.

Opening lead — ♡ 2

The old-fashioned opening lead, still favored by some experts, would be the ten of hearts.

This would show the highest heart held by the opening leader, but it would not show how many hearts he held.

Most experts now think that it is more important to show the "count" than the highest card.

COULD RUIN DEFENSE

If West leads the ten of hearts, East will surely try to cash two heart tricks.

This ruins the denfense, for South ruffs the second heart and leads trumps until West takes the ace.

South ruffs the heart continuation and draws the rest of the trumps.

He then runs five club tricks to fulfill his game contract.

BRILLIANT SWITCH

When West leads the deuce of hearts, showing three or four cards in the suit, East knows that he can get only one heart trick. (The deuce might be a singleton, but the bidding indicates that South is more likely than West to hold a singleton in hearts.)

East must look for three other tricks to defeat the contract. The best chance is to switch at once to the deuce of diamonds.

West has the ten of diamonds and a trump trick, exactly as East hoped.

East's two diamond tricks then defeat the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 4 3 2
♥ 10 5 2
♦ 10 6 5 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

You have only 4 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, but it pays to stretch a point or two when you have four-card support for your partner's major suit.

NON-BOUNCE CHECK

Many Circumstances Make Difficulties To Meeting

A series of unforeseen circumstances ganged up on the Marin Republican Central Committee last night to wreak havoc with the evening's agenda.

The scheduled speaker was Mike Djorjevich, president of the Young Republicans of California. He couldn't make it because of a death in the family.

Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the central committee, was scheduled to preside at the meeting in the courthouse. Misner couldn't make it: flu.

No treasurer's report: the treasurer was ill.

Acting Chairman Charles Michals was able to get reports from finance chairman Peter Johnson and precinct chairman James Tufts. Tufts announced that a GOP registration drive will be held March 26-April 3.

Leighton Hatch, a Mill Valley attorney, was elected unanimously to the central committee to succeed Mrs. Virginia Wickersham, who resigned.

The one-hour meeting was adjourned in memory of San Rafael attorney Donald E. Paterson Jr., who had been active in the campaigns of Richard Nixon and Donald H. Clausen.

Senator Hits Some Moves For Park Sites

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, yesterday questioned the need for some of the park acquisitions proposed by the State Park Commission.

The commission has recommended that some 25 sites be acquired with funds from the state beach and park bonds approved by voters in 1964.

Among the proposals is expansion of Mount Tamalpais State Park. With this, McCarthy readily agrees. "We're hopeful that this will go through, but I question the validity of some of the other proposed acquisitions, such as the Santa Monica project."

The Santa Monica acquisition would create a new 1,450-acre state recreation area in Los Angeles County, on the west slopes of the ridge separating Topanga and Santa Ynez Canyons.

"They're asking for $12 milloin to buy the land," said McCarthy. "Seems expensive for bare land, and it's going to be costly to bring in water. Offhand, I would think they could do a lot better by acquiring some beaches near the ocean."

The Senate Finance Committee, of which McCarthy is a member, is re-evaluating the acquisitions proposed by park commission.

Breath Test Held Less Offensive

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Several legislators agreed yesterday that the breath test (blowing into balloon) is less offensive than the blood alcohol test to determine drunken driving.

However, they are not sure the breath test is as reliable as the blood alcohol test.

The statements were in answer to questions raised by a bill (SB-3) introduced by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, and co-authored by Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa-Solano. The bill provides that anyone who drives on a highway shall be deemed to have given his consent to a chemical test of his blood, breath or urine to determine alcoholic content. A refusal to submit to such test would mean suspension of license for six months.

As the bill is drawn up, the driver does not appear to have a choice of test; he must take whichever test is offered or suffer the consequences.

Assemblyman Young, who co-authored the bill, favors giving motorists a choice. He agreed that a balloon test does not seem to jar the sensibilities so much as the needle jab.

"If the breath test is as reliable as other tests, then it seems to be the more acceptable method," Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, declared. "If the blood test approach isn't acceptable, then perhaps the breath test alone might be the basis of a compromise."

Several weeks ago, Assemblyman Bagley received an opinion from the Office of Legislative Counsel that such tests appear to be constitutional.

That Special House
Lofty ceilings and tall walls frame large areas of glass that bring sky, view and foreground trees in to soften the stark white and geometrically simple interior of this contemporary home in the hills. Compact, but in no way tiny, this 2 bedroom home is made to seem much larger than it is by the correct use of proportion and the restrained use of good and complementary material. Convenience is inherent in the U-shaped built-in kitchen the compartmented bath. Pleasure is insured by the wide deck that completely surrounds the home, from which a path leads down to a level picnic area by an all year creek. Here is integrity of designing for good living in a nearly new home at just $24,500.

ORDINANCE NO. 1498
AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN ADDING CHAPTER 13.50 TO THE MARIN COUNTY CODE, PROHIBITING THE INSTALLATION OF UTILITY POLES, WIRES, AND OTHER OVERHEAD INSTALLATION OF UTILITY FACILITIES IN CONNECTION WITH THE CONSTRUCTION OR IMPROVEMENT OF DESIGNATED COUNTY ROADS.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DO HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION I. Chapter 13:50 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

CHAPTER 13.50
UNDERGROUND UTILITIES ON DESIGNATED COUNTY ROADS

Section 13.50.010. Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is the promotion of the public safety, health, and welfare by requiring the undergrounding of overhead utility facilities whenever it is necessary to relocate and/or reconstruct any utilities in connection with the construction and/or improvement of certain county roads declared to be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Section 13.50.020. Exceptions. This chapter shall not apply to the following types of facilities:

(a) Poles used exclusively for police and fire alarm boxes or any similar municipal equipment installed under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works when, in his opinion, it is unfeasible to place such facilities underground.

(b) Poles and associated structures used exclusively for street lighting and traffic signalization.

(c) An electrical distribution system consisting of metal poles supporting high voltage wires, transformers and street lights, when all other facilities for the supplying and distribution of electric energy and service are placed underground, if specified by the Board of Supervisors.

(d) Overhead wires attached to the exterior surface of a building by means of a bracket or other fixture, extending directly from one location on the building to another location on the same building or an adjacent building, without crossing a road.

(e) Overhead wires which cross a designated road, but are not supported by poles located within or immediately adjacent to the road right-of-way, if specified by the Board of Supervisors in the amendment to this chapter designating such road.

(f) Radio antennae, their associated equipment and supporting structures, used by a utility for furnishing communication services, if specified by the Board of Supervisors.

(g) Service terminals, in pedestals, aboveground, used to distribute communication service in underground systems; providing the locations thereof are approved in advance by the Director of Public Works.

Section 13.50.030. Notice and Hearing. Prior to the construction, relocation, or improvement of any road, or portion of any road, located wholly or partially in the unincorporated areas of the County of Marin, the Board of Supervisors may order a public hearing to ascertain whether the public health, safety, and welfare require that said road be declared to be subject to the provisions of this chapter, in order to insure that all poles, overhead wires, appurtenances and structures on or adjacent to said road shall be placed underground when relocated in connection with its construction or improvement.

Said hearing shall be ordered by resolution describing the road or portion of a road involved. A copy of such resolution shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within the County of Marin. In addition, the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors shall mail a copy of said resolution to all affected utility companies and property owners at least ten (10) days prior to the date of said hearing. Failure to transmit or receive notice of said hearing by mail, shall not invalidate any proceedings taken hereunder.

Section 13.50.040. Designation of Road. At the conclusion of said hearing, or any continuance thereof, if the Board of Supervisors finds that the public necessity, health, safety or welfare require undergrounding of utilities in connection with the construction, relocation, or improvement of said road, the Board of Supervisors may, by amendment to this chapter so declare. Such amendment shall describe the road and, where appropriate, an area immediately adjacent thereto from which poles, overhead wires and associated facilities are to be removed, and shall fix the time within which such work shall be done. A reasonable time shall be allowed for such work, having due regard for the availability of necessary labor, materials and equipment. Thereafter, it shall be unlawful for any person or utility to erect or install any poles, overhead wires or associated facilities within said road or any adjacent areas, described in said amendment.

Section 13.50.050. Utility's Responsibility. When relocation and or reconstruction of poles, overhead wires and associated facilities are required in connection with the construction and or improvement of any road specified by an amendment to this chapter adopted in accordance with Section 13.50.040, and underground construction is necessary to continue to provide utility services, the supplying utility shall, without cost to the County, unless otherwise specified in the amendment designating the County road, furnish and install that portion of the conduits, conductors and associated equipment required to be furnished and installed by it, in accordance with all applicable rules, regulations and tariffs on file with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California. Underground construction by the utility shall be accomplished in accordance with established construction standards and in accordance with the rules and regulations authorized by the Commission.

Section 13.50.060. Property Owners' Responsibility; Notice. All underground construction and conduits, conductors and associated equipment necessary to receive utility service between the service terminals of the supplying utility and the service facilities in the building or structure being served shall be provided by the person owning, operating, leasing or renting said property, subject to applicable rules, regulations and tariffs of the respective utility or utilities on file with the Commission. If the above is not accomplished by any person within the time provided for in the amendment to this chapter adopted pursuant to Section 13.50.040 hereof, the Director of Public Works is authorized and directed to disconnect or cause to be disconnected the overhead service wires and associated facilities to the premises of such person; provided, however, that no disconnection shall be made or directed by the Director of Public Works without first giving the parties affected fifteen (15) days written notice and a reasonable opportunity to request a hearing before the Board of Supervisors on the propriety of the proposed disconnection.

Section 13.50.070. Responsibility of County. The County of Marin shall remove at its own expense all County-owned equipment from all poles required to be removed under an amendment to this chapter adopted pursuant to Section 13.50.040 hereof in ample time to enable the owner or user of such poles to remove the same within the time specified in said amendment.

Section 13.50.080. Notification of affected property owners and utilities. Within ten (10) days after passage of an amendment to this chapter declaring a specific road to be subject to the provisions hereof, the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin shall notify all affected utilities and all persons owning real property affected thereby. Whenever relocation and or reconstruction of poles, overhead wires and associated facilities are required in connection with the construction and or improvement of said road, the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors shall also notify said property owners that, if they or any person occupying such property desire to continue to receive electric, communication, or other similar or associated service, they must effect all facility changes on their premises necessary to receive such service underground from the lines of the supplying utility or utilities when relocated. Said changes shall be provided in accordance with applicable rules, regulations and tariffs of the respective utility or utilities on file with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California and the requirements of State laws and this chapter.

Notification shall be accomplished by mailing a copy of the amendment along with a copy of this chapter, to said utilities and to affected property owners, at such addresses as are shown on the last equalized tax roll of the County of Marin.

Section 13.50.090. Extension of Time. In the event that any act hereby required of any party herein referred to cannot be performed within the time herein provided on account of shortage of materials, war, restraint by public authorities, strikes, labor disturbances or any other circumstances beyond the control of the actor, then the time within which such act will be accomplished shall be extended for a period equivalent to the time of such limitations.

SECTION II. This ordinance is to take effect and be in full force and effect after the expiration of thirty (30) days from and after its passage and the same published before the expiration of fifteen (15) days with the names of the members voting for and against the same at least once in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in said County of Marin.

SECTION III. Severability. If any section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance or any part thereof is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance or any part thereof. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that it would have passed each section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, paragraphs, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, held on the 15th day of February, 1966, by the following vote:

RESOLVED, by the City Council of the City of San Rafael, California, that:

WHEREAS, by Resolution No. 3390, adopted on the 7th day of February, 1966, this Council determined that a surplus of $800.57 remains in the improvement fund of Northgate Industrial Park, Unit One, Assessment District;

WHEREAS, Resolution of Intention No. 2749, adopted by this Council on the 4th day of March, 1963, provides that if such a surplus remains it shall be applied as a credit to each individual assessment levied in the proceedings undertaken pursuant thereto; and

WHEREAS, the amount of said surplus is not sufficient to warrant the costly procedures required with regard to prorating and crediting said surplus, and, therefore, this Council intends to change and modify said Resolution of Intention to provide that the surplus shall be expended for the maintenance of the improvements acquired and constructed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY FOUND, DETERMINED and ORDERED, that the public interest, convenience and necessity require, and it is the intention of this Council to make changes and modifications in its Resolution of Intention No. 2749, adopted March 4, 1963, by providing that, instead of crediting the amount of the improvement fund surplus to each individual assessment, the amount of said surplus, to-wit: $800.57, less the cost attributable to this change and modification, shall be expended to maintain the improvements acquired and constructed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Monday, the 7th day of March, 1966, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. in the regular meeting place of said Council, Council Chambers, City Hall, San Rafael, California, are hereby fixed as the time and place when and where this Council will consider the matter of making said changes and modifications and will hear all protests and any person interested therein. Written objection to the proposed changes may be filed with the City Clerk by any interested person at any time not later than the time set for the hearing, and any interested person having any objection to the proposed changes may appear before the Council and show cause why the changes should not be ordered.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Some Good News For One Network

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —It looks just about like last season in the top five programs of the latest national television ratings —"Bonanza" first, followed by "Bewitched," "Red Skelton," "Gomer Pyle" and "The Lucy Show."

This is particularly good news at CBS-TV, not only because Skelton, "Gomer Pyle" and "The Lucy Show" all belong to that network, but also because Miss Lucille Ball, the star of the last-named series, has decided to return next season after threatening again to quit her weekly program.

This means that CBS-TV, which several weeks ago faced the situation of both Miss Ball and Jackie Gleason vowing not to return to their regular series next season, now has them both back because of changes of mind.

On Saturday, by the way, the Gleason hour will be a party marking the 50th birthday of the rotund star, with Milton Berle as host of the activities, and others on hand including Arthur Godfrey, Erroll Garner and double-talk artist Al Kelly.

According to those latest ratings, it might be noted, two other series in the top 10 are also statistical successes of last season—"The Beverly Hillbillies" (sixth) and Andy Griffith (ninth). Three new series fill out the list of the 10 top-rated shows: "Green Acres" (seventh), "Hogan's Heroes" (eighth) and "Get Smart" (10th).

The ratings, if they are anywhere near correct, offer some fascinating tidbits. For example, the twice-weekly "Batman" sensation seems amazingly consistent in its audience appeal. The Wednesday episode finished 12th and the Thursday program 13th—with apparently identical, or near-identical, statistics.

Another new mid-season entry, "Daktari," set against the background of an African animal compound, continued strong and solid in the ratings, finishing 20th—and, like "Batman," it seems certain to continue next season as a network entry.

Some one-hour shows that are geared primarily, and hopefully, for the reasonably adult audience (by television standards) also seem to be doing pretty well numerically and are virtually certain bets to be back again in the coming season—"I Spy," the Bob Hope Theater and "The Hollywood Palace."

A couple of other adult-geared hours didn't do badly in the ratings—"Run for Your Life" and the Dean Martin show—with the former pretty definite to return and the latter considered a cautious choice.

Iowa Pact With Amish Announced

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Gov. Harold Hughes announced yesterday what he called a "statement of understanding" designed to solve, temporarily at least, the long standing school dispute with the Amish.

He said that under terms of the agreement, two Amish schools will be rented to the Oelwein Community School District so that they will become part of the public school system.

The school district will put state-certified teachers into the schools, he said, with the Daanforth Foundation of St. Louis providing a $15,000 grant to pay the costs, the governor said.

He added that the agreement includes the right of the Amish to provide instruction in the German language in the schools for at least two hours a week. There will be no religious instruction in the schools, Hughes added.

Freedoms Group Gives Honors

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI) —The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge yesterday bestowed its highest honor on the Defense Department and the military services in Viet Nam and throughout the world for their "civic action" programs.

The Defense Department and the armed forces were named recipients of the foundation's George Washington award and honored at George Washington birthday ceremonies here.

Among those named for seven special awards were Army Capt. Roger H. C. Donlon, congressional medal of honor winner for heroism in Viet Nam, and the late Alfred P. Sloan Jr., former president and board chairman of General Motors Corp., who died last Thursday in New York.

Twenty five persons or organizations received principal awards in various categories and were among those honored at the ceremonies in the Valley Forge Military Academy in nearby Wayne.

Three Fliers Die In Eureka Crash

EUREKA (AP)—A light plane developed a shrill engine noise shortly after takeoff yesterday, dipped, struck a redwood tree and crashed with the loss of three lives.

Victims in the accident near Murray Field were William Ferrier, 30, Eureka, a Humboldt County sheriff's deputy and the pilot; Charles F. Beasley, 29, Crannell; and Michael D. Retherford, 24, Exeter.

McCarthy Now Burns' Stand-In

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, has moved into position as the operating leader of the state senate, during the illness for Senator Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, president pro tempore of the upper house.

Burns underwent surgery last week for a kidney ailment. He is reported to be recovering satisfactorily but will be absent for some time.

McCarthy is vice chairman of the senate committee on rules, which holds most of the powers for administration of the senate, and automatically moves up to take Burns' place during his absence.

Measure Would Allow Probe Of Public Works

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation to allow continued investigation of administration in the State Department of Public Works, the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Highway Patrol was introduced yesterday in the Assembly.

Assemblyman Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, said the proposed resolution was essential because it was important for the legislature "to maintain a watchful scrutiny" between sessions.

"There is a growing tendency of bureaucracies to usurp the functions of the legislature in law enforcement arms of state and local government and even in the judiciary," Carrell said.

AN ARTIST'S FAMILY

They Didn't Find Simple Life In Spain But At Home In Marin

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The simple life is in Sausalito. Albert Garvey and his family went to Spain three years ago to seek "the simple life," but ended up finding it was at home.

Artist Garvey, 34, his wife, Barbara, and their daughters, Megin 4, and Tiny Raquel, are now living happily in a house beneath some mimosa blossoms at 45 Marie Street.

Garvey tried to raise tomatoes but found that when his tomatoes ripened the market was surfeited. While market tomatoes cost a penny a pound, his—after paying for seed, fertilizer and water—were about $1 a pound, he related.

"I used to beat the clothes on a rock with the other women," said Mrs. Garvey. "I found out that pretty soon you have very clean rags and nothing to wear." They bought a washing machine.

"What's that?" he was asked.

"No method," said she. "Sooner or later the baby will emerge." Mrs. Garvey had a midwife.

Part of the planned simple life in Spain was to mean Garvey would spend the bulk of his time painting. And he did a lot of painting, Garvey remarked.

The Garveys, as per plan, wanted to settle in a porches, a small goat herdsmen's cottage, but in eight months they found none. They then found the mill at the village of Fornalutx which, on the edge of a torrente (mountain stream) had been half carried away years ago. The place also had 30 fruit trees, mostly oranges.

It was three stories high. There were three good walls remaining but the floors and roof had caved in.

"Everybody in town thought we were straight crazy," commented Garvey but, on its completion, the townspeople said the house was "magnificent."

"The house was going to be rudimentary but it ended up a nine-room palace," Garvey said.

"By the time we ended up, we were living just like Americans but way out in the middle of Spain. We found the simple life was so tremendously complicated it took all our time just to keep ourselves alive. . . . Finally we looked at each other and said 'this is ridiculous. . . . If we lived in Sausalito we would be closer to Paris, Rome and Mexico than in Mallorca.'

"We decided to finish the house, sell it and go back to the states. San Francisco surely is one of the greatest cities in the world. There is only other city I know we would consider living in — Paris. Here you can live in the country and live next to a fantastic city—the best of all possible worlds." They finished the house last April.

Garvey said he showed in a gallery in Palma and had an agent and gallery in Chicago. "The problem (with selling art) in Spain is you are competing with hundreds of sidewalk painters and most of the tourists are budget tourists," he said.

Garvey said that during his three years away the whole pop art movement "passed me right by."

He said they found no stimulation, had no benefit of any kind of culture, and most of Spain had lost its folk culture long ago. In Mallorca, he said, there is very little music and no art whatever.

"The thing we didn't realize was when people used to live the simple life, there were 10,000 people leading that life and one guy at the top. And the peasants weren't trying to paint. It was all they could do to get food in their mouths. The guy at the top had servants. He was leading the simple life."

Garvey plans to continue to do seriographs and get some galleries in San Francisco and Los Angeles. At the same time he will do creative and artistic carpentry. He also plans to remodel a tiny bus into a camper so that the Garveys may travel wherever there are roads from Alaska to South America. "But Sausalito will be our home," he said.

BACK IN THE SWING AGAIN—Artist Albert Garvey, his wife, Barbara, and daughter, Megin, 4, tried the "simple life" in Spain but decided it was too complicated. They, with another daughter, Raquel, are home again in Sausalito where, says Garvey, they have the best of all possible worlds.

Museum Again Honors Family

The institution had been the Field Museum, named after the Field family of Chicago, from its founding in 1893 until 1943. Members of the family have donated several million dollars to the museum over the years.

Trustees of the museum said the name was changed originally at the request of members of the Field family. The trustees decided to return to the Field name to honor permanently the members of the family who have contributed for more than 70 years toward one of the world's great museums.

Are Koufax, Drysdale Trying For $Million Deal?

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who does Sandy Koufax think he is, Donny Anderson?

Undoubtedly he doesn't, but stories appearing in a Los Angeles paper would tend to indicate that Koufax and pitching mate Don Drysdale are trying to add to a trend that has become common in pro football—long-term, six-figure contracts.

It would take a combined figure of more than $1 million for the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers to sign their two star pitchers, according to a copyrighted story written by Bob Hunter in Monday's Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

San Francisco's Willie Mays may have started the trend in baseball when he signed a two-year contract for $250,000. Now Koufax is reportedly asking $600,000 and Drysdale $450,000 for three-year contracts.

Koufax was not available for comment but Drysdale had this to say:

"I will not comment on the figures, which would put me in the position of negotiating through the newspapers. However, Sandy and I are grown up and this is a business affair. We want to handle it the way we feel is right, and in a proper manner for all concerned."

"Yes, they are asking for a lot of money," he admitted. "But this $600,000 is news to me."

Bavasi also said he was not aware that the pitchers were asking for three-year contracts, but added:

"They may be, as far as I know. So many people are in the act I don't know what's going on. It is true that I have been thinking in terms of around $100,000 but nothing has been settled on a figure.

"They want a lot of money and I want to give them a lot, but their idea of the word 'lot' might be different than mine."

Koufax and Drysdale apparently aren't the only players in the majors thinking in terms of a lot of money—Dodger shortstop Maury Wills reportedly wants to crack that class also—as some 100 players remain unsigned, with spring training opening in 10 days.

Among the name players still unsigned and unhappy are Jim (Mudcat) Grant, Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva of Minnesota, Bob Gibson of St. Louis, Detroit's Norm Cash and Don Demeter, Brooks Robinson and Frank Robinson of Baltimore, San Francisco's Juan Marichal and Boston's Carl Yastrzemski.

The most ticklish problems could be presented by Grant and Gibson, the two ace hurlers having based their salary pitches on comparisons with what Koufax receives. That, however, was when Koufax was reported to be asking a more moderate $100,000.

"I'm at least half as good as Koufax, so I should be paid half of what he gets," Grant has said in explaining his position.

That meant $50,000 when the Twins were reportedly offering $30,000. The game may be a little more complicated now.

Gibson might be in there, too. He's been difficult ever since St. Louis General Manager Bob Howsam is supposed to have said there was no pitcher better than Gibson with the possible exception of Koufax.

"If Mr. Howsam is going to compare me with the better pitchers, like Koufax," said Gibson, "I should be paid accordingly."

Drake Coach Quite A Prophet: Predicted Title A Year Ago

PROPHET OF THE YEAR: It was just about a year ago that Carl J. "Red" Brown, Drake's head basketball coach, marched into the I-J sports department and firmly declared:

"I'm going on record right now as predicting that Drake will win the Marin Athletic League basketball championship in 1966! And you can quote me."

Well, I didn't quote Brown then, but I'm sure glad I saved the notes because Brown's 1966 Pirates clinched at least a tie for the title Tuesday night.

AND SPEAKING of predictions, let me be the first to tell you that the 1966 World Series will open on Wednesday, Oct. 5 at Candlestick Park. But it's still a bit early to start applying for tickets, the Giant front office advises me.

JAMES SLATTERY, a third grader at Lagunitas School in San Geronimo, dropped me a line the other day, asking for some information for his sports notebook.

"First," he wrote, "who do you think is the best baseball player there is?"

Willie Mays, centerfielder for the San Francisco Giants.

"How old do you think people should be before they play hockey?"

Raydine Ice Skating school of San Anselmo has a "Pony" hockey team for 6 to 9 year-olds. So, James, you are old enough right now.

"How many men should be on a team of base ball?"

A team may use only nine men on the field at a time. However, with substitutes, there are various numbers. Junior and school teams have about 15 players; major leagues have 25.

It's good to have boys like James Slattery so interested in sports. Any more questions?

AS THE big time columnists would say, don't invite Jack Christiansen and George Halas to the same party.

Reason: Chris, I gather, is still pretty miffed at the way his 49ers were treated the last time they met George's Bears in Chicago. That was the game in which the Bears ran roughshod over the San Franciscans 61-20.

The subject came up recently when Chris and I dined together. Along with about 500 other guys at a banquet. When asked about that game, Chris fumed: "There isn't any doubt in my mind that the Bears poured it on. That's one thing I don't believe in. I go to church now and then and I'll never get a guy down and then stomp on him. I don't know if they have any churches in Chicago."

COLLEGE OF MARIN NOTES: The Tar golf team, coached by Cal Riemcke of basketball fame, will use the new San Geronimo National Course for its home grounds this season . . . Only 15 thinclads reported to Coach Pete Limm last week for the track and field schedule . . . Coach Ed Grimm's Tar baseballers opened their 1966 schedule today at San Francisco City College, get a taste of tournament play at Chabot College in the East Bay Friday and Saturday and come home for their first home game on March 1 against Contra Costa . . . The Marin basketball team hasn't lost a game in Santa Rosa (their arch-rival) since 1958 . . . Coach Jim McGowan's Tar wrestlers will host Sierra, Napa, Yuba, Shasta and Santa Rosa in the Golden Valley Conference wrestling tournament Friday starting at 1 p.m. with finals slated for 7 p. m.

DISPUTE OVER GRADES

NCAA Rebellion Hinted

BOSTON (AP) — The NCAA, long embroiled in a bitter fight with the AAU, is facing a major rebellion within its own ranks on a new rule fixing scholastic scholarship requirements for athletes.

Led by the powerful Ivy League, more than 100 schools, most of them in the East, are refusing to comply with the NCAA ruling that an athlete must score at least 1.6 on a four-point score in the classroom to be eligible for scholarship aid.

The NCAA, faced with a showdown, appears to be trying to back down graciously and honorably. Whether it will be able to do so under the heavy pressure being applied remains to be seen.

A deadline for compliance with the new code originally was set for a week ago. However, the NCAA extended it a week, until last midnight.

The Ivy League's eight members, joined by scores of other schools, refused to budge from their stand. A few hours before midnight, Dr. Robert F. Goheen, Princeton University president and Ivy spokesman, announced that the NCAA had granted another extension of several days.

The deadline was extended after the Boston Herald reported a survey compiled by sports editor Bob Hoobing and college sports writer Jack Sheehan.

The Herald check showed that of the NCAA's 571 member schools, 108 have refused to comply with the rule adopted at the annual convention in January, 1965. Another 54, the paper said, are "in the correspondence stage."

New England schools lined up with the Ivy League include Holy Cross, Amherst, Bowdoin, Brandeis, Middlebury, MIT and Tufts.

The NCAA on the surface had little choice but to bow and extend the deadline to the Ivy and aligned rebels. Penn, a top contender for the Ivy basketball title, is host to the NCAA regional tournament and Cornell is in line for an NCAA hockey playoff bid.

The Ivy League began the rebellion by refusing to comply on the ground that it should set its own academic standards because it does not grant athletic scholarships. Other schools have pointed to the fact that scholastic standards very sharply among NCAA member schools.

Tufts University Vice President Frank A. Tredinnick Jr. said in a letter to NCAA President Everett Barnes earlier this week:

"We understand and appreciate the laudable interest of the NCAA in promulgating this rule. We feel, however, that conforming would run counter to our commitments and responsibilities as a university in that this rule unduly restricts the freedom of students and the university in making decisions concerning athletic participation on whatever grounds are reasonable and appropriate for this university."

PLAYER MOVES AHEAD OF NICKLAUS BY FIVE

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — A new driver put Jack Nicklaus in a pond and he was unable to recover, so the 1965 Masters champion trails little Gary Player by five strokes going into today's third match in their $50,000 six-match special challenge series.

Nicklaus, the Columbus, Ohio strongboy, shot a 75 in the second match of their touring tournament, while reigning U.S. Open champion Player carded a 70. That gave Player a 138 total and Nicklaus 144.

Each shot a 60 in the opening round Monday when both were attacked by bees and were forced to skip the eighth hole.

Nicklaus, who broke the driver he has used throughout his professional career in tune-ups earlier this week, ran afoul on the second hole yesterday. He drove into a pond, sent his fourth shot to the far edge of the green, then three-putted for a triple bogey.

Two Yanks In Contention For Figure Skating Title

The 20-year-old Visconti was tied for second place with Wolfgang Schwarz of Austria and Allen stood just behind them in fourth place at the completion of the first two school figures yesterday.

LEADERS

Leading the field at the intermediate point was European champion Emmerich Danzer of Austria, a 21-year-old Viennese student, with 332.3 points. Visconti and Schwarz each totaled 316.4 points and Allen, the U.S. national champion, had 309.2.

William Chapel of Hollywood, Calif., was 17th with 270.8 points. if Visconti or Allen were able to remain close in the final four school figures today, it was believed they would be in good position to bring the U.S. its first men's title since David Jenkins won his third crown in 1959. Both Visconti and Allen are very strong in free skating, which places emphasis on showmanship, inventiveness and daring.

40 PER CENT

The free skating program counts for 40 per cent of the total score and will be contested tomorrow.

U.S. team manager Norman Fuller of Los Angeles warned his two youngsters, not to become too over-confident, although he admitted they were off to a "good" start.

"The free skating is both Gary's and Scott's strong point," Fuller said. "But if they want to win, they must keep up with the Austrians in the school figures."

WCAC Basketball Title Showdown This Weekend

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of the Pacific, co-leader in the West Coast Athletic Conference, is looking toward a familiar schedule—Santa Clara Friday and San Francisco Saturday.

Pacific's Tigers, 9-1 in the conference, have a chance to win the crown by defeating San Francisco which has the same record.

On Feb. 11 the Santa Clara Broncos surprised the Tigers with a 78-72 upset. The next night Pacific met the San Francisco Dons and handed them their only league loss 88-78.

This weekend's rematch of Pacific and San Francisco has been set up by a chain of victories by each team since those games. Last night Pacific defeated St. Mary's 80-61 and San Francisco knocked over Santa Clara 93-80.

In other WCAC games, UC Santa Barbara edged San Jose State 83-76 and Loyola bettered Pepperdine 93-74.

The Santa Clara Broncos, the only conference team to defeat Pacific, gave San Francisco a rough time. The Broncos led through much of the first half, at one point by as many as nine points. Joe Ellis, however, hit 75 per cent of his field goal tries and led the Dons to a comeback victory with 33 points. Mike Gervasoni with 22 points led the Broncos.

Keith Swagerty hit 29 points and Bob Krulish 19 for Pacific in the Tigers' win over St. Mary's.

Celtics Turn Back Warriors, 116-108

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, who need to learn how to hold a lead, are pointing for victories this weekend at home in two games against Cincinnati.

The Warriors failed to hold a huge margin over the world champion Boston Celtics yesterday and fell to defeat 116-108. The loss left them in third place, percentage points ahead of St. Louis in the National Basketball Association's Western Division standings.

Rookie Rick Barry turned in another high scoring effort, if in defeat, as he poured 32 points through the twine. Sam Jones hit 30 for Boston.

Just before the end of the half San Francisco was rolling along with a 57-37 lead, but the Celtics charged back into a 84-84 tie. Reserve John Havlicek dropped in 13 of his 20 points at this stage in the next nine minutes.

Another Dark Day For U.S. Skiing Team

HOLMENKOLLEN, Norway (AP) — Norway won the men's 40-kilometer relay and Russia swept the first four places in the women's five-kilometer cross-country race today in the World Nordic Ski Championships.

The Norwegian quartet of Odd Martinsen, Harald Goenningen, Ole Ellefsaeter and Gjermund Eggen led from start to finish in the men's relay. Their winning time was 2 hours, 14 minutes, 27.9 seconds, a margin of 1 minute, 12.1 seconds over runner-up Finland. Italy was third.

The United States team placed 13th in the field of 14. Mike Elliott of Durango, Colo., Larry Damon of Burlington, Vt., Bob Gray of Putney, Vt., and Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., were the American skiers.

Alevtina Kolchina led the Soviet sweep in the women's race, winning in 17:18.9. Claudia Boyarskikh took second, followed by Rita Atskina and Yevdokia Mekshilo.

There were no U.S. entrants in the women's event, which was raced through a heavy snow and brisk wind.

Bob Bolin Inks Contract; Six Still Unsigned

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants open spring training next Monday, but they still have six players unsigned.

Latest to come to terms is Bob Bolin, who signed his 1966 contract yesterday for a slight raise that put him around the $20,000 level.

The 25-year-old Bolin was 14-6 last season and had an earned run average of 2.76.

Among the prominent Giants who have not inked pacts are first baseman Willie McCovey and pitchers Juan Marichal and Bob Shaw.

Drake Frosh Win

Led by Fred Westscott's 12 points, the Drake frosh basketballers whipped the Tam freshmen 33-23 Monday in the Tamalpais High School gym.

Seals Host Buckaroos Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals, making a run for Western Hockey League playoff money, collide with first-place Portland tonight at the Cow Palace.

"I think we're going to make it now," he says of the playoff prospects. "I haven't felt this way before. The boys seem to have got their spirit and attitude back."

San Francisco skaters are now in last place a point behind Los Angeles who defeated Portland 10-0 last night. The Seals have lost six of seven this season to the Buckaroos.

But Poile says he has a stopper for the likes of such Portland players as Cliff Schmautz and Bill Saunders. Seal defenseman Larry McNabb is itching to return to the ice wars, Poile asserts.

"Larry is terribly upset at sitting on the bench," Poile reported. "He's a guy who gives out 100 per cent. I feel sorry for the first guy he hits."

HANLEY

Tom Haller gave himself two years to make good when he became a rookie catcher for the Giants in 1961. "If I don't make it in that time I think I'll turn to coaching—football coaching," said the 6-4, 200-pound ex-Illinois quarterback as he put on a major league uniform for the first time.

Of course, all Giant fans know that Haller made it big the following year when he became the No. 1 backstop of the 1962 pennant winning Giants. But success didn't come easy for Haller whose light rookie bat (.145) in 30 early season games of 1961 earned him a ticket back to Tacoma.

That winter Haller placed himself under the batting tutorship of Hank Sauer in the Arizona Instructional League and Sauer d'd wondrous things for Haller. Sauer put more than 100 points on Haller's bat and thus saved Haller's classy glove for the Giants.

"He was an apt pupil," Sauer now says. "You never had to tell Tom anything twice."

HALLER SMILES at that just as he does at Carl Hubbell's description of his catching — "an intellectual behind the plate"—a description with which all Giant pitchers agree.

"I can never forget the help and confidence Hank gave me," said Haller as he began packing his bags for 1966 spring training camp. "Hank showed me the way. He showed me how to keep from locking my elbow against the side of my body. He had me raise my bat several inches and that did it automatically.

"HE ALSO changed the way I was gripping the bat. I had my left hand rolled over too far. And he made a simple adjustment in my rear foot work. I used to come up on the toe of my rear foot a moment before swinging.

"Hank showed me how he always stayed firm on his pivot foot, screwing it into the ground until the heel was firmly set in the dirt."

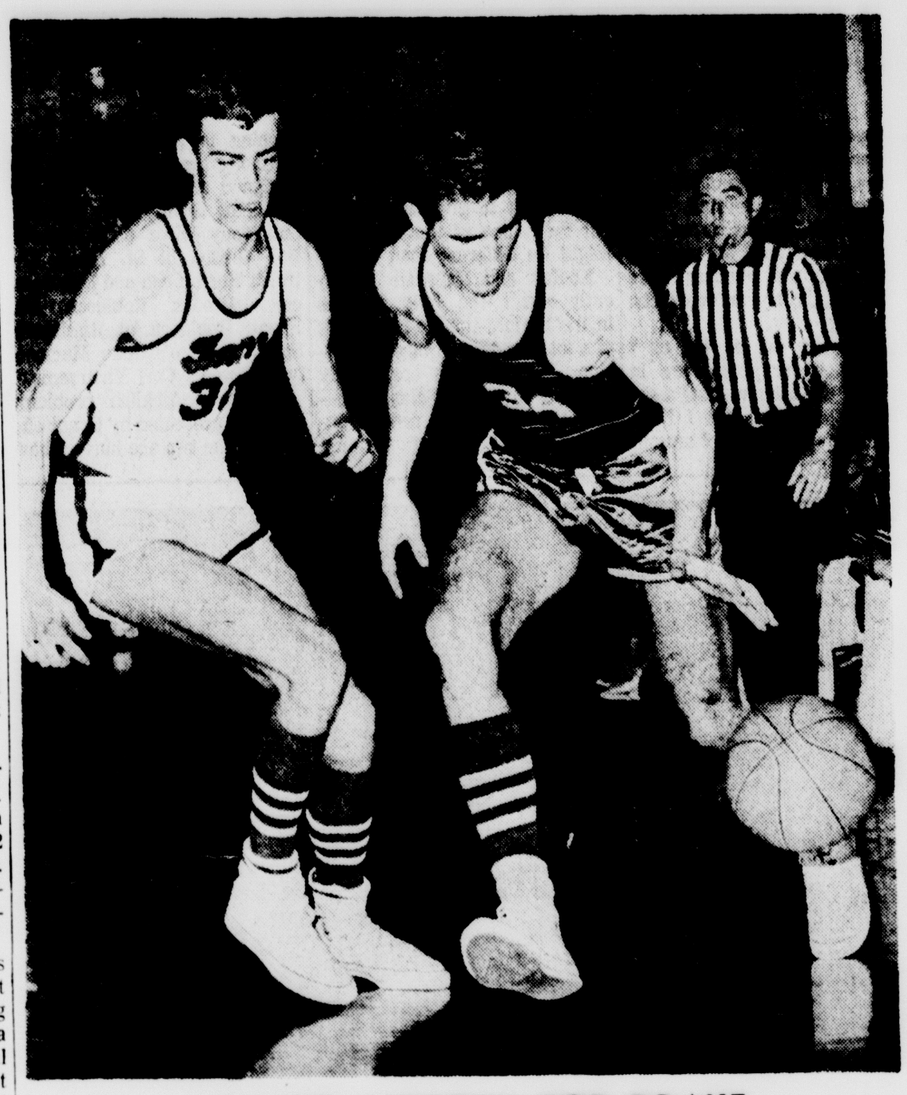

NATURALLY, SAUER never made a .300 hitter out of Haller. But he did convert him into a respectable .261 hitter in 1962 with 18 homers and 55 RBIs. Over the last three seasons Haller has averaged .254 with a total of 46 homers and 141 RBIs.

Every September Haller turns into a home run tiger. He isn't quite sure why he begins belting them in September but it's a pleasant pastime. Of his total of 16 homers in 1964 he hit eight in September. Of a total of 16 last season he hit five in September.

"MAYBE," HE said, "it goes back to football conditioning when I was in college and we would try to reach our peak in September. Whatever the reason, I'm not going to probe it too deeply. I might get fouled up in self-analysis. I'll just take it as it is. September has to be a good month for me."

DID HALLER have any predictions about the 1966 National League race?

"Same old stuff," he said. "Los Angeles has got to be knocking on the door again. The same goes for Cincinnati and others in the scramble. A rough race, as usual. I don't care where the others finish just so we're on top."

Mets Get Dick Stuart In Trade With Phillies

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla. (UPI) —Slugging first baseman Dick Stuart, the legendary "Dr. Strangeglove" who has put several big league managers on tranquilizers with his antics, was the complete property of the New York Mets today in what has to go down as one of the great "bargain basement" trades in baseball history.

The 33-year-old Stuart, who hit 42 home runs for the Boston Red Sox in 1963 and led the American League in runs batted in with 118 the same year, came to the Mets yesterday from the Philadelphia Phillies in exchange for minor league infielders Bobby Klaus, Wayne Graham and catcher Jim Schaffer.

The three players, all of whom were on the roster of the Mets' Jacksonville farm club, were transferred to the Phillies' San Diego roster. To make room for Stuart on their own roster, the Mets sent infielder Jim Lampe to Jacksonville.

The Mets now boast their finest infield in history with Stuart at first, Ron Hunt at second, Roy McMillan at shortstop and Ken Boyer at third.

None of the three players the Mets gave up for Stuart hit .250 last season. Klaus hit .191 in 119 games with the Mets and Schaffer hit .135 in 24 games with New York. Graham spent last year with the Mets' Buffalo farm club and hit .243 in 131 games.

The Baltimore Orioles and Atlanta Braves both opened their spring camps yesterday for batterymen and each team also signed a leading pitcher. The Orioles inked lefthander Steve Barber for an estimated $30,000 while Atlanta coralled lefty Denny Lemaster. The Braves also signed rookie Dan Schneider, a promising lefty.

The Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators and San Francisco Giants also received signed contracts. The Chisox signed pitcher Joe Horlen, catcher J. C. Martin and rookie outfielder Jim Hicks, the Nats inked catcher Mike Brumley and the Giants nabbed pitcher Tom Bolin.

Minnesota opened its camp and pitcher Johnny Klippstein arrived in time to sign his contract. The only Twins' holdouts among the batterymen were Jim Grant and Jim Merrit and catcher Don Zimmerman.

Cliff Hagen To Retire From Pro Basketball

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —Cliff Hagan, the "Li'l Abner" of the National Basketball Association, will finished out his 10th season and quit the St. Louis Hawks at age 34.

Hagan announced his retirement yesterday with a patch on his nose, a reminder of an accidental collision between him and big Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics.

Hagan and former teammate Bob Pettit were considered a dangerous one-two scoring combination which helped bring the Hawks to championship heights.

Only 6-feet-4, Hagan matched wits with the big boys, outmaneuvered them to the basket with his famous hookshots.

Hagan, born at Owensboro, Ky., and a product of Adolph Rupp's coaching at Kentucky, was the first round dratt choice of the Boston Celtics. But he went into military service, and then was traded to the Hawks with Ed MaCauley for Russell.

Despite his age, Hagan has kept up with the younger players. In a victory over the Baltimore Bullets earlier in the week, it was Hagan's free throw with seconds to play which cinched the game.

"I'm still hoping that we'll make the NBA playoffs," said Hagan.

Blades Flatten Buckaroos 10-0

A 10-0 score might not seem surprising when the Western Hockey League leader plays the cellar-dweller. The only thing is that it was the last-place team which won.

The Los Angeles Blades flattened Portland by the 10-0 score last night to climb into fifth place. Leo LaBine and Buddy Boone each scored the hat trick, while Blades' netminder Jack Norris got his first shutout since Nov. 8, 1964.

It was only the second time that Portland has been blanked all year, while the Bucks have registered seven shutouts.

Los Angeles has had surprising luck with Portland this year, splitting eight meetings with the league-leaders.

WISCONSIN VS. BRAVES

Money Records Demanded

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "This is completely unfair," complained Cincinnati Reds' owner Bill DeWitt after a Wisconsin judge ordered baseball to produce its financial record books in the state's intitrust suit against the Braves and the National League.

"We should have at least six weeks to produce this," DeWitt said when contacted by telephone in Cincinnati.

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller ordered the financial disclosures yesterday and gave all National League teams but the Reds until Friday to comply.

The Reds were given until next Wednesday, two days after the case is scheduled to go to trial in Judge Roller's court.

OPPOSITION

DeWitt was the only National League owner or official to comment on the order vigorously opposed by the league at a hearing Monday.

And DeWitt wouldn't say whether the Reds would obey the ruling. "This is a legal matter that will have to be determined by lawyers," he said. "But we have nothing to hide."

Radio and television contracts for the past five years.

All player contracts for the 1965 season, including a listing of the number of players under contract in the major and minor leagues and the salary paid to each. The players will not have to be identified by name.

Income from concessions and advertising.

NOT PUBLIC

The material, if produced, will not necessarily ever be made public. Roller, in dismissing baseball's contention that information on player salaries was a "trade secret," promised to accord "full judicial protection" to the documents.

The judge said the material "so inspected shall not be publicly disclosed."

Wisconsin, however, sought the data for use as evidence in the trial. Presumably, whatever financial record it uses in the trial would have to first be cleared by Roller.

There is also a possibility the material could be inserted into the court record as secret testimony.

TRADE SECRETS

Baseball, in resisting Wisconsin's bid to have its books opened, argued that the state was not only seeking "trade secrets" that have never been divulged, but was after material that had no bearing on the case.

Roller disagreed. "One would have to reject the record made to date to say that the parties have not made financial and player feasibility an issue," he said.

Wisconsin's special counsel, Willard Stafford, told the court Monday that the state needed the financial records to show how Milwaukee compared to other league cities in supporting a team.

Cardinals Sign Three Players

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals announced today they had signed three more players, including outfielders Alex Johnson, who was acquired in a winter trade with Philadelphia.

The others are shortstop Dal Maxvill, who filled in at three infield positions last season, and Tito Francona, who pinch-hit and substituted in the outfield and at first base.

The Cardinals now have 10 players unsigned, including two regulars, pitcher Bob Gibson and catcher Tim McCarver.

Market Closes Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in active trading.

The seventh straight daily loss was accompanied by a fairly good business background but creeping doubt about U.S. stance in Viet Nam due to the national debate on the subject.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.2 million shares compared with 8.52 million Monday.

As the list headed for its seventh straight daily loss, declines of fractions to around 2 points or so were scattered through the list.

Higher-priced issues were down more sharply, Xerox losing 4 and Corning Glass about 5.

Off about 3 were United Aircraft and Kroehler.

Bucking the downtrend, Kennecott advanced another 3 points in further response to its stock split. American Seating was up nearly 2 following a 2-for-1 stock split proposal. SCM Corp. added 3, General Baking nearly 3.

General Dynamics held a 1-point gain on news of a plane order from Britain. Grumman, also involved in the plane order, was off about a point.

Here Is When, How To Claim For Refund Of Insurance Tax

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Did you work for more than one employer in California during 1965 and have more than $56 deducted from you paychecks for Unemployment Disability Insurance Tax?

If so, you should file a claim for refund if:

1. You worked for two or more employers, and

2. Deductions for disability insurance were made from your wages, and

3. Such deductions totaled more than the maximum amounts due for the year 1965 as follows:

A. All wages were paid between Jan. 1, 1965 and July 31, 1965, and total deductions exceeded $56.

B. All wages were paid between Aug. 1, 1965, and Dec. 31, 1965, and total deductions exceeded $81.40.

P. J. Wikel

C. Wages were paid both before and after Aug. 1, 1965, and totaled more than $5,600, and more than $56 was deducted, then you should get a claim form and fill it out just exactly as it says. You will come out with the amount of the refund due you, if any.

It is possible that there will be no refund due. This is a complex rule and the only way you can determine if there is a refund due is to complete this Form DE 1964.

Do not use this form if refunds are due you because:

1. Disability insurance deductions of more than the required maximum were deducted from your pay by only one employer. Claim your refund from that employer.

2. You worked for a business which had a change of ownership during the year. The combined deductions made by both owners should not total more than the required maximum. If more than the required maximum was deducted from your pay by the two employers, claim your refund from the last employer.

Disability insurance deductions are shown on your check stubs or deduction slips (not on your Forms W-2). Some voluntary plans require deductions of less than the required maximum. You can only claim deductions actually made.

Most federal, state and local government agencies and religious or non-profit organizations are not subject to the insurance law. Do not include these wages in your claim unless deductions were actually made.

Do not deduct the amount of this claim from your income tax.

Do not include in your claim:

1. Deductions made from wages paid to your wife or dependents. A separate claim must be filed by each individual.

2. Deductions made from your wages for Federal Old Age Benefits or Federal Withholding (Income Tax).

3. Deductions made from wages earned in states other than California unless such wages were reported to the State of California.

4. Seamen's wages that come under the jurisdiction of states other than California.

You must claim this refund if you are to receive it. The claim must be filed before June 30, 1966.

Claims are filed with the California Department of Employment, Attention Accounting Section, 1025 P Street, Sacramento, Calif. 95814.

Claims must be filed on Form De 1964. These forms can be secured from your local office of the Department of Employment, or by writing to Sacramento.

Merchant Plans To Sell Market

Thran said he will sell out the stock, then put the market up for sale.

He bought the store 16 years ago after coming to Mill Valley from Bremen, Germany. He and his wife have reared their seven children there, the boys sleeping above the store and the rest of the family living in a house next door at 8 Old Mill Street.

Thran, who is 56, said he has not decided what he will do after selling the market.

Does Hospital Really Need To Hire A 'Coordinator'?

The Marin General Hospital District board of directors has budgeted $25,000 to pay for a new position of "Medical coordinator."

The new man is to be a doctor to "coordinate between the administrator and the hospital staff."

At the same time, the board raised the salary of William W. Turner, hospital administrator, from $22,800 to $24,300 per year, and also raised the pay of his assistant.

We do not begrude the administrator the raise in salary, but we do question the need for simultaneously (1) creating the job of "medical coordinator," presumably to take some of the load off the administrator's staff, and then (2) boosting the salary of the administrator, who is to be unburdened of some of his duties.

Unless there is some hidden logic that escapes us, isn't that tantamount to raising a man's pay while giving him less to do?

One explanation that has been advanced is that a layman administrator finds it difficult to hand down orders or administrative advice to doctors; the new medical coordinator, being a professional medical man, would carry more weight with the hospital staff.

This may well be the case. But if a $25,000 per year medical man is needed to coordinate for the administrator, then why the raise in pay for the administrator?

Also on the paid staff is a $750 per month publicist, whose job it is to help the administrator in public relations—sort of a buffer between him and the public.

Now, this new "medical coordinator" will serve as a buffer between him and the medical staff.

Too many highly paid administrators, coordinators, and other buffers could result in inefficiency and conflict, ailments from which bureaucracy often suffers.

Unless the chain of command is clearly defined, we can foresee difficulties. Would the new medical coordinator work with, under, or over the hospital administrator? If they work side by side, what happens when a difference of opinion develops? Must they wait until the next board of directors meeting to resolve the differences?

We question the need for two administrators, both in the $25,000 category, at this time. And were it to develop that a medical coordinator is justified, we trust that the hospital directors will work out a chain of command so that the administrator and the medical coordinator know exactly where they stand in relation to each other and to the board.

Nippy Mornings

Have you ever been nipped by a Marin morning? If not, you have been cheating and wintering in Palm Springs or sleeping till noon. Marin's frost doesn't bite, but it nips away and puts color in one's cheeks and makes him shiver occasionally.

Those who say they don't like California because it doesn't have four seasons should be required to walk barefoot through the frost on the rooftops on cold mornings.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Unruh Sales Tax Plan Goes Out With Fiscal Revamp Disclosure

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, no doubt found something familiar, although not amusing, last week when, for the second time, the rug was jerked out from under his property tax relief plan.

Unruh introduced a measure in the Assembly, A. B. 52, calling for a 1-cent increase in the state sales tax. The $360 million a year to be realized from this increase would be used to increase state support to schools and to lower school property taxes.

ABOUT THE SAME time Unruh was introducing the bill in the Assembly, the top fiscal experts in the State Senate held a press conference. They announced that, by converting the state to an accrual system of bookkeeping and eliminating certain reserve funds, the state could get through the 1966-67 year and balance its $4.6 billion budget without any new taxes.

And Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, chairman of the Senate finance committee, branded Unruh's tax plan as a "Robin Hood approach."

This is the second time around for Unruh and his plan to increase state taxes and return much of the revenues to the counties in order to grant relief to the property owner. This year, the plan was not as ambitious as it was a year ago.

In the 1965 session of the Legislature, Unruh wrote, along with Assemblyman Nicholas Petris, D-Oakland, a massive tax overhaul bill which would have boosted state taxes by more than $1 billion a year and returned about two-thirds of this amount to local governments to reduce taxes.

THE PLAN was aired for a number of weeks before the first official legislative hearing was set. On the morning of the day of the hearing—several hours before it was to begin—Hale Champion, state finance director, called reporters together and said new revenues had been found.

These new revenues, Champion told the reporters, would make new or increased taxes unnecessary for the 1965-66 year. By accelerating collection of sales tax from big retailers and extending sales taxes to leased equipment and casual sales of motor vehicles, boats and aircraft, the budget could be balanced.

The script last week was pretty much the same. While Gov. Edmund G. Brown had asked for a $143 million increase in personal income taxes, the senators said the switch in accounting procedures would remove the need for the tax boost.

The Petris-Unruh bill of a year ago was big and complicated, and Champion's disclosure of the new revenues was all that it took to convince most legislators the plan was unnecessary.

IN THE CURRENT session, Unruh's bill is not so complicated, but an election is coming up in a couple of months and lawmakers seeking reelection would much rather do so without having raised taxes. Thus little chance is seen again this year for the tax relief plan.

Unruh's contention has been that no new consumer taxes should be added or no increases made until something is done to relieve the burden on property owners. With the senators' plan of asking no new or higher taxes, most of the steam again is removed from Unruh's proposal.

Senator Miller also charged that Unruh's plan wouldn't work. Miller said the people would be paying the $360 million more a year in sales taxes but there was no assurance their property taxes would be reduced. Even though school district taxes were lowered, as required, Miller said there was nothing to stop local government from adding new services or expanding present ones to wipe out any tax reductions by schools.

Woman Seeks Relatives

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have been trying for 35 years to find out where I was born and some information about my mother, or her relatives. I know that she had relations living in San Rafael in 1912 . . .

Her maiden name was Josephine Vera, born in California on June 18, 1887. My mother's parents were Alfred Vera, born in Mexico, and Augustine Quintein, born in Spain.

My father's name was Soloman Edward Keenan. My parents were married in San Rafael Aug. 28, 1912. My mother had been divorced so her name at the time of this marriage was Josephine Vera Bloom. She died Nov. 7, 1918, in Marysville. I have never found her grave, either, as the death certificate only gives the funeral directors Kelly Brothers, Marysville.

My father died in 1925, and I was raised by a foster mother and all pictures, baptism records, etc., were burned when her home burned in 1927. I have checked with a great many of the Catholic churches in California but I have been unsuccessful there, also.

I remember a name Lucille Borreas—I don't know if that last name is spelled correctly—but I believe she was a sister to my mother, and I believe she lived in San Rafael and had two sons.

If anyone reads this and can help me at all, I would certainly be grateful. I would so like to know my relatives on my mother's side, as to my knowledge I have only one half-brother and no other relatives.

Young Citizen Irate Over Public Inaction

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Apropos of the pictures (showing litter) in the Feb. 14 issue of the I-J, you might be interested in a disheartening experience I had last summer with the Sheriff's department.

My sister and I do a lot of horseback riding behind the San Quentin Brazil Ranch. One day, we took notice of a parked car . . . with several filled grocery bags in the back seat . . . Next day we saw the same bags which were overflowing with garbage and had been discarded . . . I performed the unpleasant task of securing the litter for identification.

On finding two receipts bearing the name of the owner, I went to the . . . sheriff's department . . . A deputy informed me that the department would get right on it and see to it that the lady from Sausalito whose name appeared on the receipts would come and pick up her garbage.

Shortly thereafter, we found three boxes of old I-J's dumped over an embankment. Identification in the boxes indicated they were the property of a San Quentin guard and I returned to the deputy and again was told they would "get right on it."

Weeks passed and nothing happened. Determined, I went back to the department and spoke to a plain clothesman. He repeated they would "get right on it." . . .

We are now approaching another summer and the above collection is still there enhanced by the addition of more garbage, deer carcasses, shattered glass from target practice, two rusting auto fenders, more beer cans . . .

What good does it do to provide our law enforcement agency with identification . . .? Why isn't the county ordinance . . . enforced?

Hypocritical adults complain about the irresponsibility of those in their teens, yet look at the examples they are giving us . . .

Four-Lane Road Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Please study the use of highway construction funds. There has to be something wrong in the way these are allocated when we read that $5.5 million will be spent on relocating and remodelling the Tioga Pass Road, when the Black Point cut-off continues as a two-lane death trap.

I love scenic roads, too—but first things first. The Black Point is being used at a heavy rate. You have the facilities. Find out. I'll bet there are more people on the Black Point this minute than will travel over the Tioga in any given week, or maybe month.

Please help us, I-J. Speak out and prevent these stupidities. Help make the Black Point a four-lane, divided highway, as it should be, and help stop the carnage.

Two Wheelers Can Be Safe

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Dr. Van Dellen, whose column you publish, wrote an article of Feb. 3 concerning the hazards of operating a motor bike or scooter.

He is right. There are substantial hazards, just as there are while driving a car.

I cannot challenge his statistics, because I have not been able to find a source for them. However, the point I wish to make is that the industry, made up of dealers, distributors, and manufacturers, are working together to get proper laws passed in each state for the protection of the operators of two wheeled vehicles.

In addition, a real effort is being made to see if driver training in progressive states like California can include orientation and or instruction in the proper operation of bikes and scooters.

Many conscientious dealers are doing a very complete job of instruction, recognizing this function as an important obligation to his customer and to the public.

One distributor, U. S. Suzuki, who we are proud to represent, has published an excellent book on proper driving entitled "Freedom of the Road." Copies of this book will be sent to leading members of each community, indicating our concern with this matter. We also give a book to each purchaser of a machine at our store. . . .

Lastly, I want to emphasize that a great effort must be made to inform the automobile driver that he should give the same consideration to the two wheeler on the road that he gives to any other vehicle. . . .

If we can all work together toward the goals of safer highways and more careful driving, the benefits and fun of bike riding will become apparent to all.

BENNETT CERF

BUFORD RAY, former Green Bay Packer, and now one of the football coaches at Vanderbilt, told Bish Thompson, of the Evansville Press, the story of one of his 280-pound guards who was not exactly a mental phenomenon. One night the well-meaning bruiser came home nursing a black eye and a swollen lip. His explanation: "I just ran into Mike Maloney, the tavern keeper, and made some crack about the Pope. So he took a couple of pokes at me."

IN 1904, the first link of New York City's now far-flung subway system, began operations. It ran from Brooklyn Bridge to 145 Street and Broadway, on a schedule twenty minutes faster than a 1966 racing car can make the trip today. It's not the double-parkers that cause the delays now. It's the triple-parkers. Mayor Lindsay: HELP!

MRS. WHOOSH: I saw the most adorable hat in a Fifth Avenue boite today—but it was far too expensive.

MR. WHOOSH (wearily) — Well, put it on and let's see how it looks on you.

Republicans Must Clean Party Of 'Rat Finks,' Race Haters

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders are still wasting the beckoning opportunity for political recovery in the cities.

Why should the Republicans turn to the big cities to repair the havoc of 1964?

Because the Republican vote has been declining steadily and disastrously in the 16 largest metropolitan areas since 1956.

Because most voters live in the cities and the Republican Party can make a comeback only by going where the voters are — not where the voters aren't.

IT IS USEFUL that the national committee is trying to strengthen the party organization in the cities, but by itself this can do little. The Republican Party can begin to make headway only as it can:

Prove that it has a modern, activist concern with the many new and mounting problems which have outgrown the capacity of city government to deal with them.

Show that the GOP merits the confidence of Negroes, other minority groups, and labor in the cities where their votes are decisive. This was the touchstone of Lindsay's personal victory in New York.

It is evident that thus far the Republican leaders are laying hold of none of those ingredients of success. There is no magic wand which can wave them into being, but there are, I think, two immediate steps which would help.

ONE WOULD be for the Republican Coordinating Committee to create several GOP task forces to hold public hearings in all the big cities on metropolitan problems and how to deal with them. The purpose would be to listen to both the experts and the citizens, to come to grips with a wholly new set of issues, and to demonstrate concern about what needs to be done.

To grasp a problem adequately is two-thirds of its solution. To show the city voters that the party is acutely aware of their needs and that there is a good alternative to what they have elected in the past—that could be the beginning of a GOP revival where it would help most.

The other imperative step is to comb the anti-Negro, anti-Semitic, Nazi-type race-haters out of the official ranks of the Republican Party. They are there—as the self-styled Young Republican "rat finks" of New Jersey have so revoltingly demonstrated—and they won't go quietly. Here was what Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, R-N. J., wrote to GOP Chairman Ray Bliss:

"IN THE BEST interests of the Republican Party, what we need is both the appearance and the reality of a full and fair investigation . . . of this latest manifestation of extremist, hate-preaching activity in our party. If we can succeed in accomplishing this, we can demonstrate our party's dedication to decency and civil liberties."

Unfortunately, as Congresswoman Dwyer points out, the investigating committee named by the national Young Republicans is "closely associated" with those it is supposed to investigate.

No sly, secret, under-the-table slap on the wrist will free the Republican Party from the smell and smear of the Republican racist rat finks in New Jersey or anywhere else. What is needed — and a good many Republicans urgently want it—is a thorough, open investigation and a total house cleaning.

Dominican Republic Expenditures Noted

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—U.S. expenditures in the strife-racked Dominican Republic will come to around $187 million by the end of the current fiscal year.

Of this huge amount $137 million was spent in the nine-month period from April 24, 1965, when President Johnson rushed troops to the Caribbean country to prevent a Communist take-over, to Feb. 1 of this year.

Another $50 million is in two little-known provisions of the $415 million emergency budget the President is seeking for economic aid to Viet Nam.

The House Appropriations Committee, which is considering this giant "supplementary" request, has found a $25 million item for the Dominican Republic in Section III, titled "Additional Fiscal 1966 Supporting Assistance Requirements," and another $25 million as part of a proposed $100 million increase in "fiscal year 1966 contingency foreign aid funds."

IN SUPPORT of the additional $50 million for the turbulent Dominican intervention for the remaining four and one-half months of the current fiscal year, the State Department is circularizing congressional leaders with a backstage memorandum.

It contends the funds are essential to maintain the provisional government of President Garcia-Godoy so an election can be held in June. Highlights are as follows:

"As a result of severe economic and political instability following the April, 1965 revolution, additional supporting assistance for the Dominican government is necessary to:

(1) Help the provisional government of President Garcia-Godoy create and maintain a stable environment conductive to the election of a democratic government in June.

"(2) Help the provisional government meet its current obligation so the new government is not faced with an immediate financial crisis which would threaten its existence. The additional $50 million is needed to cover the gap between essential operating and capital budget costs and reduced tax revenue, which fell off because of political unrest."

FROM THREE SOURCES, the House Foreign Affairs Committee has compiled a detailed breakdown of the $137 million cost of the Dominican intervention as of Feb. 1. These sources are the State Department, Defense Department and Intelligence authorities:

$86 million—for all types of economic aid to support the provisional government and activities of the Organization of American States.

A LARGE QUANITY of arms is still in the hands of the Dominican leftist rebels—who are constantly precipitating murderous shooting attacks.

"It may be deduced," wrote MacArthur, "that about 1,500 weapons remain in civilian hands in the rebel zone, although some of these may be held by rebel military who are against re-integration. Neither figure (3,000 or 1,800) includes civilian-held weapons which may have been smuggled out of the rebel zone and hidden in places outside of the city.

It's A Time For Birds, Flowers And Fish In Tiburon's Spring

To E. E. Cummings, spring was a "mud-luscious" and "puddle-wonderful" season, but flood-troubled residents of the Tiburon Peninsula look for more pleasant signs of spring than such wet hangovers from the monsoon season.

If mother nature's signs can be trusted (and what mother would ever lie?) Spring really has arrived.

The poppies are just barely popping along the tops of peninsula ridges and Indian paintbrush is expected to color the rolling hillsides of the central peninsula very shortly.

THE BIRDS of Marin County lead unique lives, according to John Larson, manager of the Richardson Bay Wildlife Sanctuary on Tiburon Boulevard.

Some of the birds fly in from the north to find warmth in Marin during the winter. Others, afraid that their feathers will be frosted during Marin's winter mornings, wing south until spring seems due, and then return to their homes here.

The general result, Larson told me, is a lot of scurrying on the ground and in the air as the birds change sides with the arrival of spring.

That commotion, he said, is now going on.

THE ROBINS, which make home temporarily in Marin during the winter, are now diminishing from the ranks of the winged. They will be followed soon by the ducks and other shore birds, which are now readying themselves for the annual springtime flight northward.

The Herons and egret have flown in from the south, and can now be seen househunting. They'll be building soon, said Larson with an almost paternal pride.

Spring means hauling out, scraping, and painting for boat owners, and Jerry Gillin, manager of the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, reports that the most ambitious of his members have already appeared clad in dungarees for the annual refurbishing.

"WE'VE HAD only a few out thus far, but that's the sign that more will be out within the month," he said.

At the net depot in Tiburon, spring has brought high hopes for the success of a new research project at the U. S. Department of the Interior's fish and wildlife service biological laboratory.

The larvae hatched on January 21, and works at the laboratory are now working to keep the minute fish alive, according to acting director, James L. Squire.

"THEY COME in to spawn when the water is at its coldest," he explained. "It's usually hard to raise them for more than 40 days because somehow they change their needs for food and water temperature.

Workers at the lab are hopeful that they will be able to keep the fish alive with newly designed equipment which pumps bay water into tanks and keeps water temperatures exact.

IT'S HARD to see the fish without a magnifying glass. The oldest of the batch, which numbers 1,000 is 30 days old. The fish are so slender they are nearly transparent, and there isn't one in the batch which is more than three quarters of an inch long.

Success with this experiment may mean that game fish can be easily cultured, making it possible to replenish the haul which sportsfishermen take home to their frying pans each season.

That would be good news, I'm sure for the man I saw walking towards the bay with his sparkling new spinning gear, but I didn't tell him about it. He looked too interested in what's out there this year.

Prosecutor, Judge Of Writers Are Assured Of Defense Help

WASHINGTON — The trial of the two Soviet writers, Yuli Daniel and Andrei Sinyavsky, ended as famous show trials in Moscow always do. The defendants were found guilty of writing anti-Soviet progaganda and were sentenced to five and seven years, respectively.

There has been a great deal of protest in world-wide intellectual circles over the trial, and many famous writers have openly sympathized with the convicted writers. But little concern has been shown towards the leading judge, the prosecutor, and the government witnesses who sent Daniel and Sinyavsky away.

In the interests of justice, I am starting a defense fund for these people, who in all likelihood, will be in trouble themselves very soon.

WHENEVER you have a trial of this sort in the Soviet Union, the judge, the prosecutor, and the government witnesses are ruthless in their denunciation of the defendants. The Soviet press also joins in on the attack and for awhile praise is heaped on all the people who were responsible for sending the "traitors" away.

Five years from now it's quite possible that someone high up in the government will decide that the trial of Daniel and Sinyavsky was a mistake, that the charges were rigged and should never been made.

There will be a call for the "rehabilitation" of the two writers, who will be revealed as heroes of the Soviet Union rather than as enemies of the state. They will be pardoned and each given compensation and a "dacha" in the country.

BUT UNDER the Soviet system, in order to rehabilitate someone who has been unjustly tried, you must find the people responsible for trying them and punish them for the miscarriage of justice.

So it looks like the judge, Lev Smirnov, and the prosecutor, Oleg Tyomushkin, and the two chief government witnesses, Soviet writers Zoya Kedrina and Arkady Vasilyev, are the people we must worry about. If everything goes according to plan, they'll all be in the dock themselves for sending Daniel and Sinyavsky to prison.

I don't know any of these learned men, but I'm sure there was no malice in their prosecution of the case. My committee is asking for clemency now for the judge, the prosecutor, and the government witnesses on the grounds that they did what they did in order to keep their jobs.

HOW COULD they know that in five years from now Daniel's and Sinyavsky's criticism of the Soviet Union would be considered justified.

We are also asking that the Soviet Union not be too harsh on the Soviet newspapermen who covered the trial and wrote all those nasty things about the two writers. They were only caught up in the atmosphere of the time.

We know that all the people involved with sending Daniel and Sinyavsky to jail will have to be punished, but we hope this plea from our committee will be taken into consideration. If the judge got five years, the prosecutor seven years, and the two writers, Kedrina and Vasilyev, were kicked out of the writers' union, we believe the purposes of Soviet justice will have been served.
